WISCONSIN BLOW KILLS 30

WOUNDS HAVE HEALED — President Eisenhower, welcoming West German President Theodore Heuss to Washington, assured him that the wartime bitterness between the two nations has gone. Heuss is the first German head of state to visit the United States. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles (center) took part in the welcoming.

Observers Unable To Explain About California Poll Results

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What happened in California's primary election Tuesday? Why the big Democratic splash?

Probably no one reason can explain. A number of factors appear to fit into the complex pattern of California politics that background the election figures.

Something similar happened in 1954. It didn't create the same stir, however, because a national figure like Sen. William F. Knowland wasn't involved. And the Democratic margin wasn't as great.

Four years ago, the California ballot began to identify candidates as either "Dem" or "Rep." For the first time, Democrats, who outregistered the Republicans 3-2, harnessed their big vote and nominated a full slate for state officers.

* * *

BUT IN NOVEMBER, Californians returned to their old independent voting ways. They ignored party lines. Every Democrat running for statewide office was defeated except one. That was Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

Republicans think they can win again next November. But Democratic party leaders are openly talking about a landslide. They feel the voters are ready for a change.

There's no doubt the primary showed a definite party resurgence in California. One test is the huge vote rolled up by Brown, leading his ticket as the Democratic candidate for governor.

Republicans pointed out that Knowland devoted only 14 days in the state to his primary campaign. That was all he needed for the Republican nomination.

It's true. But Brown, who barnstormed for weeks, walked off with the high popular vote by more than 500,000.

Gov. Goodwin Knight campaigned strenuously in his Republican race for the U.S. Senate. But Knowland outdrew him. More important, so did the Democratic nominee, Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff.

Just about everyone cross-filed in hopes of winning both nominations. Nobody did except a handful of state legislators and congressmen, and nearly all of these were Democrats.

Dayton Police OK Signs To Warn of Trap

DAYTON (AP) — You can carry signs in Dayton warning motorists of a radar speed zone ahead and it won't be considered interfering with the duties of officers, city officials have decided.

The decision was a victory for a 22-year-old Dayton mother of two who thinks radar traps are sneaky. She was arrested May 22 for carrying such a sign.

But when the woman, Mrs. Marjorie Steinway, appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday to face the interference charges she was met by the city prosecutor, William P. Keane, who handed her a formal release and a $1 bill.

The release read in part: "I, Marjorie Steinway, for $1 and other valuable considerations, to hereby release and fully discharge all members of the Dayton police department from all action and claims growing out of my arrest."

Police said the woman had been found ahead of their radar zone carrying a sign saying "Speed trap ahead." They cited her for interfering.

Capt. C. W. Martz, head of the traffic section, said, however, he felt Mrs. Steinway was actually aiding police. All police want to do is slow down speeders, not arreset them, he declared.

'Dead' Man Wed To Nun; Pope Says OK

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A man who returned from the dead will wed a nun who obtained the Pope's permission to marry.

Twenty years ago in the central Italian hill town of Falciano, Alba Guidotti, a pretty girl of 15, and Rinaldo Matesini, 16, became engaged.

A year later, in 1939, war came. Rinaldo was called to arms. Before he could wed Alba, he was sent off to Greece.

Word came in a few months that Rinaldo was dead. Alba, grief stricken, entered a Roman Catholic convent and took the vows of a cloistered Benedictine nun.

Rinaldo, however, was not dead. Wounded, he was shuttled from hospital to hospital. In 1946 he returned home to learn Alba had entered a convent.

Eventually he arranged to meet her in the presence of the mother superior of the convent. Alba decided to ask to be released from her vows.

Last November, came the word that Pope Pius XII had granted her the release. It was a long time to wait, but the church considers such dispensation a matter requiring the fullest study.

A month ago Alba and Rinaldo were married in the Falciano parish church. Early this week their story became known to Italian newspapers, and today church authorities at Falciano confirmed that the wedding has the blessing of the Holy See.

House Bill Calls For Bigger Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a rollcall vote of 224-158, the House today rejected President Eisenhower's plan to cut the Army's strength to 870,000 men during the next 12 months. It then passed a $38,409,561,000 defense appropriation bill.

The rollcall vote nailed into the measure an amendment to finance a 900,000-man Army during the year starting July 1 at an additional cost of $99 million.

Passage of the bill was by a 389-0 vote which sent it on to the Senate.

Today's vote on the issue of the Army's size upheld a tentative decision made Wednesday without a rollcall. This question was the only controversy in the bill.

Lima Baby Is Victim Of Blaze in Own Crib

LIMA (AP) — Three-month-old James Clifton Judy, snatched from his flaming crib Wednesday night by his father, died four hours later in St. Rita's Hospital.

Firemen said the fire apparently was caused by a faulty electric extension cord which touched the baby's bed.

The father, Richard J. Judy, wrapped the baby in two chenille rugs and rushed to a neighbor. Judy and the neighbor were delayed in their emergency trip to the hospital, they reported, by a train at a grade crossing.

Lengthy Delay Seen Ahead in Hot SUB Issue

Ohio Supreme Court Scheduled To Review 2 Controversial Cases

COLUMBUS (AP) — Months of delay appeared likely today before a final decision on the hot, recession-fed issue of whether Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) and Ohio jobless compensation may be paid at the same time.

The Ohio Supreme Court has decided to give two SUB test cases a full review. That action possibly could postpone a decision until late in the fall.

The high court admitted two Mahoning County cases for review late Wednesday. If normal procedure is followed, opposing attorneys could demand and get as much as 90 days for filing briefs and other proceedings. Hearings would follow and the court might then deliberate several months before announcing its decision.

At its discretion, the Supreme Court could shorten the time permitted for filing briefs. But attorneys for intervening parties in the SUB cases have said they will demand the full time normally allotted.

* * *

JOHN HARDWICK is the assistant attorney general who argued the cases in Mahoning County courts in behalf of James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC). Hardwick reported he will refile his original briefs with the Supreme Court in an effort to speed up the cases.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt said that the court will not initiate any move to speed up the cases. It will be up to the attorneys involved, he added.

Common pleas and appellate courts in Mahoning County held in both cases that present state law permits an unemployed worker to receive simultaneous SUB and state jobless benefits.

Those decisions upset a ruling by Tichenor that SUB payments are remuneration under Ohio law and must be deducted from BUC benefits.

The two cases arose when the AFL-CIO Steelworkers Union challenged Tichenor's ruling in one lawsuit and Joseph Posey, a Youngstown steelworker, sued Tichenor in another.

The SUB contracts, union-negotiated with employers, are designed to augment state benefits so that jobless workers could receive about two-thirds of their normal take home pay. Maximum state benefits are $39 a week for 26 weeks for unemployed workers with families.

* * *

THE SUB contracts cover about 270,000 of the 2,572,000 Ohio workers eligible for state benefits. The workers are mainly in steel, rubber, glass, automotive and electrical industries.

Gov. C. William O'Neill said about 40,000 workers are eligible to receive some $15 million in retroactive SUB payments if the courts clear the way.

The payments come from funds built up by employer contributions of five cents for each hour an employe works. The money is not deducted from employe earnings.

Tichenor stated that under his ruling he is required to seek recovery of the difference between state-paid benefits and SUB payments made to individual workers.

Failure to recover requires him to deduct such amounts from any future state benefits a worker might claim, unless his ruling is overturned by the Supreme Court.

O'Neill has taken no official stand on the SUB question. He has proposed an extension of the state jobless benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks without increasing the weekly maximum payments. A special session of the Legislature later this month will be asked to approve the extension along with action on other matters.

North Carolina School Graduates First Negro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—To an 18-year-old honor student graduating Wednesday night from Greensboro High School, the words of School Supt. Ben L. Smith had a special meaning.

He told the graduates to be ready to stand for what they thought was right, no matter what it cost them materially.

Algerian Moslems Reject DeGaulle's Plan Making Them Equal Frenchmen

CONSTANTINE, Algeria (AP) — French Premier Charles de Gaulle flew to eastern Algeria today for another enthusiastic welcome. Elsewhere, spokesmen for the nationalist Moslem rebels rejected his program to make them first-class Frenchmen.

Many Moslems were among the thousands who lined De Gaulle's route from the airport into Constantine, the rebellion-backed eastern sector's chief city.

Nationalist sources in neighboring Tunisia said there will be no halting of the 3½-year-old rebellion.

In Cairo, spokesmen for the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN) said they could not accept De Gaulle's program for integrating Algeria's European and Moslem populations with equal rights and equal votes. The FLN has spearheaded the revolt. It demands independence as the price of peace.

Constantine was the second stop on De Gaulle's three-day Algerian tour to establish his government's authority over insurgent French colonists and military leaders and to launch a new drive to end the 43-month-old nationalist rebellion.

The massed thousands in Constantine cheered as De Gaulle declared from a flag-decked balcony, "All men here have the same rights, the same duties." The brief address was essentially the same as the one he delivered to a cheering throng of about 100,000 in Algiers Wednesday.

De Gaulle spoke only in generalities that left Algerians in the dark on details of his plans for ending the rebellion. But there was no doubt the general captured and fired the imagination of Algiers residents more than anyone had done in a long time.

"I open the door to reconciliation," De Gaulle proclaimed in offering a program designed to win back rebels whom he praised as courageous. His program:

1. Within three months the nine million Arab and Berber Moslem Algerians and the 1 million Algerians of French descent will join with 45 million residents of France in voting on the constitutional reforms he is pledged to draw up.

2. At some future date all Algerians will ballot on a single voting list for "representatives to the public administration."

"Ways must be opened which until now have been closed to many," he declared. "That means that the means of livelihood must be given to those who have not had it. That means that dignity must be granted to those whose dignity was contested. That means that the motherland must be assured to those who doubted they had one."

But there was no suggestion of an independent Algeria. "In all Algeria there is only one category of inhabitant," De Gaulle declared. 'There are only Frenchmen of one sort."

With Moslems outnumbering the French settlers almost 9-1, Algerian voting has been heavily weighted to give the French the dominant voice in the territorial government. De Gaulle apparently offered the Moslems a chance to submerge the French in a flood of votes, a prospect the militant colonists will oppose.

He gave no clue to the basis on which future Algerian representation in the National Assembly in Paris would be allotted. Few in Algiers believed it would be on the same population basis as for France, since that could send a massive bloc of 100 Moslem votes to the Assembly.

The general's speech also contained an implied offer of amnesty to the rebels who have tied down almost half a million French troops in the expensive, indecisive guerrilla war. He appealed for cooperation from "those who through despair have thought it right to carry out on this soil a fight—which I recognize myself as courageous, but which is nevertheless cruel and fratricidal."

Women Talk, Talk and Talk

Talkathon Champion Due To Win $1,500

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — A marathon talkathon here has brought on a mounting list of women ready to prove there's nothing more long winded than a talkative woman.

The object is to see who can keep it up the longest. Sorta silly, but there's always an audience. And the first two contestants proved themselves rhampions.

Contestant No. 3 is well into what she hopes will break the old mark and behind her are four more women. Ernie Eye, Fayetteville television personality, will challenge the eventual winner.

Contestant No. 3 is Mrs. Arthur Capps, 38, who started in at 7:54 p. m. Wednesday expounding on her experiences on the farm.

She's aiming for a record of 28 hours, 44 minutes and 14 seconds set by contestant No. 2, Mrs. J. D. McCauley, a 49-year-old grandmother. Mrs. Lois Grant, 27, a Fayetteville secretary, started things off Monday by talking 27½ hours.

* * *

"I CAN STILL talk, but I felt like it was time to quit," Mrs. McCauley said. "I tried it because my son came home and said, 'Mother, here's the time for you to get something for all that jabbering you do.' "

The contest goes on in an appliance store which has offered $1,500 in prizes. The proceedings are broadcast periodically over a radio station here.

Mrs. Capps talked through Wednesday night on household hints, canning, courtship, home demonstration clubs, the United Nations and dairy farming. Her husband is a milkman.

Aid for Boy Is Beset by Much Trouble

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Paul Ward swallowed rat poison found in a rubbish can behind his home Wednesday. Physicians needed a sample to prescribe an antidote.

Deputies picked up the can at the Ward home and started for the hospital.

Engine trouble stopped them. They radioed for help. Other deputies sped to the breakdown, took the poison and sped on.

A block away they got a flat tire. Deputy John Mulso leaped from the car and ran the rest of the way.

Analysis enabled doctors to give Paul the proper treatment. Today, he is out of danger.

New Construction Activity Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that new construction activity last month totaled $4.1 billion, a 10 per cent increase over April.

Ike Wants Iron Curtain Aid Money Set Up in New Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower wants authority to spend foreign aid money in Iron Curtain countries but wants it separate from the mutual security bill now under Senate debate, Republican congressional leaders said today.

Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, reported the President's stand after the weekly White House conference of key GOP members from the Capitol.

Knowland himself is opposing an amendment, offered by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to put into the foreign aid bill a section allowing the President to spend money in satellite countries if he finds it would help or encourage them on a course independent of Moscow.

Knowland told a news conference that Eisenhower would support such a proposal if it came up as an amendment to the Battle Act. That law bans U.S. aid to Iron Curtain countries.

* * *

KNOWLAND HAS offered an amendment to strike the provision from the $3,712,000,000 foreign aid bill now before the Senate.

The provision would permit the President, if he deems it in the national interest, to provide financial and economic assistance to any country except the Soviet Union, Red China or Communist North Korea.

The bill survived its first test Wednesday night as the Senate rejected 56-16 an amendment by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to shift all military aid funds from the foreign aid bill to the regular Defense Department budget.

Proxmire argued that lumping military and economic aid together creates the impression that the foreign aid budget "is three times as large as it is."

9-Mile Hike 'Proves' She Can Do It

OMAHA (AP)—Would you take a nine-mile walk in humid 97-degree weather to prove to your husband you could do it?

Carole Moore, 21-year-old mother of two, did.

Carole, dressed in play shoes, shorts and a halter, called a baby sitter to mind her daughters, 2½ and 1½, then set out for the city airport.

Why?

"I wanted a sun tan. And I wanted to prove to Ray I could do it," she said.

She rested once along the way on a street bench. Then she rested again at the police station.

"Those policemen were so nice to me. One of them loaned me a dime so I could call Ray and tell him I was coming."

Next the long last mile.

"She was fagged when she arrived," her husband, 24, said. "i gave her a root beer and took her home. She's always doing something screwy. Now she wants to ride in a jet.

'After a while you get used to it."

Pilot's Error Blamed In Mexican Air Crash

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Pilot failure was singled out today as the most likely explanation of the Mexican airliner crash Monday night that killed 45 persons, including 14 Americans.

Gen. Alberto Salinas Carranza, director of Mexican Civil aviation, praised the veteran pilot, Alfonso Cecena, but said he found nothing to account for the disaster except human error.

Young Killer Loses in Plea For His Life

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—The young killer's hands twitched. His smile flickered nervously. He was asking for his life, and he lost.

Barton Kay Kirkham, who had sneered at the idea of mercy, asked for it Wednesday. The Utah Pardons Board listened to his plea for life imprisonment and mental treatment and rejected it.

Saturday the 21-year-old slayer is to be hanged. He is the first condemned man in Utah in 46 years to choose hanging for his execution instead of the firing squad.

He said he did so because the noose would bring more publicity and would cause the state more trouble.

For two years since he fatally shot a man in a grocery store holdup and fled with $50, Kirkham had assured fellow prisoners and anybody else who would listen, "I'm not afraid to die."

"I'm a loner," he told the board Wednesday.

Over and over, the board members asked him why he had killed, what he thought of dying, whether he felt remorse. Kirkham said: "No sir, no remorse or anything like that."

But then he launched into a disconnected, nervous plea for mercy. He said he'd rather die than spend his life in prison. But what he really wanted, he said, was confinement outside the prison for psychiatric treatment.

The board said no.

Civil Service Pay Hike Near Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional approval appeared assured today for a 10 per cent pay increase for the government's one million white collar and supervisory civil service employes.

The Senate, which previously voted for a 7½ per cent increase, accepted Wednesday the 10 per cent figure approved by the House while adding some amendments.

The House is expected to accept the Senate changes and send the bill to the White House today.

The pay boost, applying to all classified civil service workers, is expected to cost the government $542 million a year.

29 Kent State Pupils Expelled

Raid on Girls' Dorms Brings Severe Action

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University President George Bowman said today 29 students are being dismissed from the school in the wake of an early morning raid on two women's dormitories.

Police Chief F. B. Grubb estimated 1,500 to 2,000 persons were involved in a wild 1½-hour long demonstration that authorities were unable to break up.

Fourteen persons, including 10 students, are in Portage County Jail on this the last day of the school year at Kent State. None of those suspended or jailed was a senior. No charges were filed immediately.

Some 15 men managed to get into a women's dormitory, where they were pursued through the halls by police. Some of the 15, authorities said, apparently leaped through a screened window on the third floor in evading the law.

Those who jumped either fled or were helped away by comrades.

Polire Chief Grubb said tear gas was used in a futile attempt to break up the crowd at one of two women's dorms.

Authorities said they had been warned to expect some hi-jinks on the eve of the last school day, and the 15 were the only ones who gained entrance to a dormitory.

The demonstration, punctuated by exploding firecrackers and the ringing of gongs, finally ran out of steam at about 1:30 a.m., Grubb said.

Bill for Big Army Awaits House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members backing a big Army looked to a rollcall today to rivet into a defense appropriations bill enough money to prevent a 30,000-man drop in Army strength.

Both sides on the issue said the outcome may be close.

Except for that rollcall, the House Wednesday finished work on the biggest appropriations bill of the year.

The extra $99 million earmarked for a bigger Army would boost the over-all defense total to $38,409,561,000. This is $212,614,000 more than President Eisenhower asked.

The group favoring a big Army won an initial victory when an amendment carrying the $99 million was approved tentatively by a 108-79 vote.

Warren County Flier Is Plane Crash Victim

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Two men were killed Wednesday when an Air Force T33 jet training plane crashed, exploded and burned 17 miles northwest of here.

The Air Force identified the two officers killed in the crash as 1st Lt. Paul M. Moore, 24, of Cozaddale (Warren Counny), Ohio; and 1st Lt. Richard H. Boyce, 28, of Seattle.

Moore was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Moore, Cozaddale. His wife, Dorothy, lives at Elmendorf Air Force Base here.

Tornado Rips 4-County Area; Over 100 Hurt

Colfax in Northwest Part of State Feels Funnel's Full Fury

MENOMONIE, Wis. (AP)—A deadly tornado cracked like a bullwhip across northwestern Wisconsin Wednesday night, leaving a toll of at least 30 dead and more than 100 injured.

The vicious twister unleashed its full fury on the small town of Colfax after lashing through four counties.

Houses were smashed, trees splintered and stone buildings pulverized as the cruel storm, carrying torrents of rain, skirted the edge of the Colfax business district.

Bodies of 11 persons were recovered from the debris there. Another 35 residents of the community of 1,000 were hurt.

Speeding out of the northwest, the tornado spun across four counties before blowing itself out southeast of Eau Claire.

* * *

RURAL AREAS near Menomonie and Chippewa Falls were hard hit.

The funnel carried such force it not only blew houses and barns down, but strewed boards, plumbing fixtures and furniture indiscriminately.

A northside residential district in Colfax was all but wiped out. Some newly built homes were reduced to piles of debris atop their foundations. Others were just blown away.

Automobiles, twisted into grotesque shapes, were tossed like toys.

Communications and power were knocked out in Colfax, forcing rescuers to make farm-by-farm visits to check for casualties and damage.

After its destructive northside touchdown in Colfax, the twister skipped the business district to maul homes on the community's southside.

One relief worker said 'just 10 minutes is all it took." The blowing rain that accompanied the blow came down the street like a wave, she said.

Gov. Vernon Thomson ordered three companies of National Guardsmen to duty in the storm area for rehabilitation work.

Striking just after the supper hour, the twister caught many families unaware as their houses were flattened about them.

Communications and power lines were torn out and extent of the catastrophe was slow in becoming known. Officials used a makeshift network of police, sheriffs' and civil defense radios to marshal doctors and nurses at hospitals in the area.

They also summoned ambulances and made appeals for station wagons and covered trucks to carry the injured to hospitals.

The funnel tore into Wisconsin at Woodville, just east of the St. Croix River, and caused destruction in Ludington, in Eau Claire County 80 miles to the east. It covered parts of St. Croix, Dun, Eau Claire and Chippewa counties.

* * *

WITH ELECTRICITY out, rescue parties used hand torches and headlights to probe the tangled wreckage for victims. Hospitals over the area were crammed with the injured, some reported critically hurt.

"We felt the suction," said Melvin Hendrickson, 58, of Colfax. "The wind was twisting things in the basement. Rain was pouring

Business Tax Extension Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reluctant House was ready to vote today to continue business taxes at present levels for another year.

Many House members would like to cut personal income levies and other taxes this election year. But congressional leaders and the Eisenhower administration are teaming to hold the line in the face of anticipated big budget deficits this year and next.

The only other tax proposal due to come before the House would provide relief for small business firms. This, however, would be largely in the form of administrative relief, with no anticipated change in tax rates.

Lengthy Delay Seen Ahead in Hot SUB Issue

Ohio Supreme Court Scheduled To Review 2 Controversial Cases

COLUMBUS (AP) — Months of delay appeared likely today before a final decision on the hot, recession-fed issue of whether Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) and Ohio jobless compensation may be paid at the same time.

MENOMONIE, Wis. (AP)—A deadly tornado cracked like a bullwhip across northwestern Wisconsin Wednesday night, leaving a toll of at least 30 dead and more than 100 injured.

The vicious twister unleashed its full fury on the small town of Colfax after lashing through four counties.

Houses were smashed, trees splintered and stone buildings pulverized as the cruel storm, carrying torrents of rain, skirted the edge of the Colfax business district.

Bodies of 11 persons were recovered from the debris there. Another 35 residents of the community of 1,000 were hurt.

Speeding out of the northwest, the tornado spun across four counties before blowing itself out southeast of Eau Claire.

RURAL AREAS near Menomonie and Chippewa Falls were hard hit.

The funnel carried such force it not only blew houses and barns down, but strewed boards, plumbing fixtures and furniture indiscriminately.

A northside residential district in Colfax was all but wiped out. Some newly built homes were reduced to piles of debris atop their foundations. Others were just blown away.

Automobiles, twisted into grotesque shapes, were tossed like toys.

Communications and power were knocked out in Colfax, forcing rescuers to make farm-by-farm visits to check for casualties and damage.

After its destructive northside touchdown in Colfax, the twister skipped the business district to maul homes on the community's southside.

One relief worker said 'just 10 minutes is all it took." The blowing rain that accompanied the blow came down the street like a wave, she said.

Gov. Vernon Thomson ordered three companies of National Guardsmen to duty in the storm area for rehabilitation work.

Striking just after the supper hour, the twister caught many families unaware as their houses were flattened about them.

Communications and power lines were torn out and extent of the catastrophe was slow in becoming known. Officials used a makeshift network of police, sheriffs' and civil defense radios to marshal doctors and nurses at hospitals in the area.

They also summoned ambulances and made appeals for station wagons and covered trucks to carry the injured to hospitals.

The funnel tore into Wisconsin at Woodville, just east of the St. Croix River, and caused destruction in Ludington, in Eau Claire County 80 miles to the east. It covered parts of St. Croix, Dun, Eau Claire and Chippewa counties.

• • •

WITH ELECTRICITY out, rescue parties used hand torches and headlights to probe the tangled wreckage for victims. Hospitals over the area were crammed with the injured, some reported critically hurt.

"We felt the suction," said Melvin Hendrickson, 58, of Colfax. "The wind was twisting things in the basement. Rain was pouring

Observers Unable To Explain About California Poll Results

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What happened in California's primary election Tuesday? Why the big Democratic splash?

Probably no one reason can explain. A number of factors appear to fit into the complex pattern of California politics that background the election figures.

Something similar happened in 1954. It didn't create the same stir, however, because a national figure like Sen. William F. Knowland wasn't involved. And the Democratic margin wasn't as great.

Four years ago, the California ballot began to identify candidates as either "Dem" or "Rep." For the first time, Democrats, who outregistered the Republicans 3-2, harnessed their big vote and nominated a full slate for state officers.

• • •

BUT IN NOVEMBER, Californians returned to their old independent voting ways. They ignored party lines. Every Democrat running for statewide office was defeated except one. That was Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

Republicans think they can win again next November. But Democratic party leaders are openly talking about a landslide. They feel the voters are ready for a change.

There's no doubt the primary showed a definite party resurgence in California. One test is the huge vote rolled up by Brown, leading his ticket as the Democratic candidate for governor.

Republicans pointed out that Knowland devoted only 14 days in the state to his primary campaign. That was all he needed for the Republican nomination.

It's true. But Brown, who barnstormed for weeks, walked off with the high popular vote by more than 500,000.

Gov. Goodwin Knight campaigned strenuously in his Republican race for the U.S. Senate. But Knowland outdrew him. More important, so did the Democratic nominee, Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff.

Just about everyone cross-filed in hopes of winning both nominations. Nobody did except a handful of state legislators and congressmen, and nearly all of these were Democrats.

'Dead' Man Wed To Nun; Pope Says OK

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A man who returned from the dead will wed a nun who obtained the Pope's permission to marry.

Twenty years ago in the central Italian hill town of Falciano, Alba Guidotti, a pretty girl of 15, and Rinaldo Matesini, 16, became engaged.

A year later, in 1939, war came. Rinaldo was called to arms. Before he could wed Alba, he was sent off to Greece.

Word came in a few months that Rinaldo was dead. Alba, grief stricken, entered a Roman Catholic convent and took the vows of a cloistered Benedictine nun.

Rinaldo, however, was not dead. Wounded, he was shuttled from hospital to hospital. In 1946 he returned home to learn Alba had entered a convent.

Eventually he arranged to meet her in the presence of the mother superior of the convent. Alba decided to ask to be released from her vows.

Last November, came the word that Pope Pius XII had granted her the release. It was a long time to wait, but the church considers such dispensation a matter requiring the fullest study.

A month ago Alba and Rinaldo were married in the Falciano parish church. Early this week their story became known to Italian newspapers, and today church authorities at Falciano confirmed that the wedding has the blessing of the Holy See.

Dayton Police OK Signs To Warn of Trap

DAYTON (AP) — You can carry signs in Dayton warning motorists of a radar speed zone ahead and it won't be considered interfering with the duties of officers, city officials have decided.

The decision was a victory for a 22-year-old Dayton mother of two who thinks radar traps are sneaky. She was arrested May 22 for carrying such a sign.

But when the woman, Mrs. Marjorie Steinway, appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday to face the interference charges she was met by the city prosecutor, William P. Keane, who handed her a formal release and a $1 bill.

The release read in part: "I, Marjorie Steinway, for $1 and other valuable considerations, to hereby release and fully discharge all members of the Dayton police department from all action and claims growing out of my arrest."

Police said the woman had been found ahead of their radar zone carrying a sign saying "Speed trap ahead." They cited her for interfering.

Capt. C. W. Martz, head of the traffic section, said, however, he felt Mrs. Steinway was actually aiding police. All police want to do is slow down speeders, not arreset them, he declared.

House Bill Calls For Bigger Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a rollcall vote of 224-158, the House today rejected President Eisenhower's plan to cut the Army's strength to 870,000 men during the next 12 months. It then passed a $38,409,-561,000 defense appropriation bill.

The rollcall vote nailed into the measure an amendment to finance a 900,000-man Army during the year starting July 1 at an additional cost of $99 million.

Passage of the bill was by a 389-0 vote which sent it on to the Senate.

Today's vote on the issue of the Army's size upheld a tentative decision made Wednesday without a rollcall. This question was the only controversy in the bill.

Lima Baby Is Victim Of Blaze in Own Crib

LIMA (AP) — Three-month-old James Clifton Judy, snatched from his flaming crib Wednesday night by his father, died four hours later in St. Rita's Hospital.

Firemen said the fire apparently was caused by a faulty electric extension cord which touched the baby's bed.

The father, Richard J. Judy, wrapped the baby in two chenille rugs and rushed to a neighbor. Judy and the neighbor were delayed in their emergency trip to the hospital, they reported, by a train at a grade crossing.

Women Talk, Talk and Talk

Talkathon Champion Due To Win $1,500

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — A marathon talkathon here has brought on a mounting list of women ready to prove there's nothing more long winded than a talkative woman.

The object is to see who can keep it up the longest. Sorta silly, but there's always an audience. And the first two contestants proved themselves rhampions.

Contestant No. 3 is well into what she hopes will break the old mark and behind her are four more women. Ernie Eye, Fayetteville television personality, will challenge the eventual winner.

Contestant No. 3 is Mrs. Arthur Capps, 38, who started in at 7:54 p. m. Wednesday expounding on her experiences on the farm.

She's aiming for a record of 28 hours, 44 minutes and 14 seconds set by contestant No. 2, Mrs. J. D. McCauley, a 49-year-old grandmother. Mrs. Lois Grant, 27, a Fayetteville secretary, started things off Monday by talking 27½ hours.

• • •

"I CAN STILL talk, but I felt like it was time to quit," Mrs. McCauley said. "I tried it because my son came home and said, 'Mother, here's the time for you to get something for all that jabbering you do.' "

The contest goes on in an appliance store which has offered $1,500 in prizes. The proceedings are broadcast periodically over a radio station here.

Mrs. Capps talked through Wednesday night on household hints, canning, courtship, home demonstration clubs, the United Nations and dairy farming. Her husband is a milkman.

Aid for Boy Is Beset by Much Trouble

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Paul Ward swallowed rat poison found in a rubbish can behind his home Wednesday. Physicians needed a sample to prescribe an antidote.

Deputies picked up the can at the Ward home and started for the hospital.

Engine trouble stopped them. They radioed for help. Other deputies sped to the breakdown, took the poison and sped on.

A block away they got a flat tire. Deputy John Mulso leaped from the car and ran the rest of the way.

Analysis enabled doctors to give Paul the proper treatment. Today, he is out of danger.

New Construction Activity Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that new construction activity last month totaled $4.1 billion, a 10 per cent increase over April.

Ike Wants Iron Curtain Aid Money Set Up in New Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower wants authority to spend foreign aid money in Iron Curtain countries but wants it separate from the mutual security bill now under Senate debate, Republican congressional leaders said today.

Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, reported the President's stand after the weekly White House conference of key GOP members from the Capitol.

Knowland himself is opposing an amendment, offered by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to put into the foreign aid bill a section allowing the President to spend money in satellite countries if he finds it would help or encourage them on a course independent of Moscow.

Knowland told a news conference that Eisenhower would support such a proposal if it came up as an amendment to the Battle Act. That law bans U.S. aid to Iron Curtain countries.

• • •

KNOWLAND HAS offered an amendment to strike the provision from the $3,712,000,000 foreign aid bill now before the Senate.

The provision would permit the President, if he deems it in the national interest, to provide financial and economic assistance to any country except the Soviet Union, Red China or Communist North Korea.

The bill survived its first test Wednesday night as the Senate rejected 56-16 an amendment by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to shift all military aid funds from the foreign aid bill to the regular Defense Department budget.

Proxmire argued that lumping military and economic aid together creates the impression that the foreign aid budget "is three times as large as it is."

9-Mile Hike 'Proves' She Can Do It

OMAHA (AP)—Would you take a nine-mile walk in humid 97-degree weather to prove to your husband you could do it?

Carole Moore, 21-year-old mother of two, did.

Carole, dressed in play shoes, shorts and a halter, called a baby sitter to mind her daughters, 2½ and 1½, then set out for the city airport.

Why?

"I wanted a sun tan. And I wanted to prove to Ray I could do it," she said.

She rested once along the way on a street bench. Then she rested again at the police station.

"Those policemen were so nice to me. One of them loaned me a dime so I could call Ray and tell him I was coming."

Next the long last mile.

"She was fagged when she arrived," her husband, 24, said. "I gave her a root beer and took her home. She's always doing something screwy. Now she wants to ride in a jet.

'After a while you get used to it."

Pilot's Error Blamed In Mexican Air Crash

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Pilot failure was singled out today as the most likely explanation of the Mexican airliner crash Monday night that killed 45 persons, including 14 Americans.

Gen. Alberto Salinas Carranza, director of Mexican Civil aviation, praised the veteran pilot, Alfonso Cecena, but said he found nothing to account for the disaster except human error.

Young Killer Loses in Plea For His Life

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—The young killer's hands twitched. His smile flickered nervously. He was asking for his life, and he lost.

Barton Kay Kirkham, who had sneered at the idea of mercy, asked for it Wednesday. The Utah Pardons Board listened to his plea for life imprisonment and mental treatment and rejected it.

Saturday the 21-year-old slayer is to be hanged. He is the first condemned man in Utah in 46 years to choose hanging for his execution instead of the firing squad.

He said he did so because the noose would bring more publicity and would cause the state more trouble.

For two years since he fatally shot a man in a grocery store holdup and fled with $50, Kirkham had assured fellow prisoners and anybody else who would listen, "I'm not afraid to die."

"I'm a loner," he told the board Wednesday.

Over and over, the board members asked him why he had killed, what he thought of dying, whether he felt remorse. Kirkham said: "No sir, no remorse or anything like that."

But then he launched into a disconnected, nervous plea for mercy. He said he'd rather die than spend his life in prison. But what he really wanted, he said, was confinement outside the prison for psychiatric treatment.

The board said no.

Civil Service Pay Hike Near Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional approval appeared assured today for a 10 per cent pay increase for the government's one million white collar and supervisory civil service employes.

The Senate, which previously voted for a 7½ per cent increase, accepted Wednesday the 10 per cent figure approved by the House while adding some amendments.

The House is expected to accept the Senate changes and send the bill to the White House today.

The pay boost, applying to all classified civil service workers, is expected to cost the government $542 million a year.

29 Kent State Pupils Expelled

Raid on Girls' Dorms Brings Severe Action

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University President George Bowman said today 29 students are being dismissed from the school in the wake of an early morning raid on two women's dormitories.

Police Chief F. B. Grubb estimated 1,500 to 2,000 persons were involved in a wild 1½-hour long demonstration that authorities were unable to break up.

Fourteen persons, including 10 students, are in Portage County Jail on this the last day of the school year at Kent State. None of those suspended or jailed was a senior. No charges were filed immediately.

Some 15 men managed to get into a women's dormitory, where they were pursued through the halls by police. Some of the 15, authorities said, apparently leaped through a screened window on the third floor in evading the law.

Those who jumped either fled or were helped away by comrades.

Polire Chief Grubb said tear gas was used in a futile attempt to break up the crowd at one of two women's dorms.

Authorities said they had been warned to expect some hi-jinks on the eve of the last school day, and the 15 were the only ones who gained entrance to a dormitory.

The demonstration, punctuated by exploding firecrackers and the ringing of gongs, finally ran out of steam at about 1:30 a.m., Grubb said.

Bill for Big Army Awaits House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members backing a big Army looked to a rollcall today to rivet into a defense appropriations bill enough money to prevent a 30,000-man drop in Army strength.

Both sides on the issue said the outcome may be close.

Except for that rollcall, the House Wednesday finished work on the biggest appropriations bill of the year.

The extra $99 million earmarked for a bigger Army would boost the over-all defense total to $38,409,-561,000. This is $212,614,000 more than President Eisenhower asked.

The group favoring a big Army won an initial victory when an amendment carrying the $99 million was approved tentatively by a 108-79 vote.

Warren County Flier Is Plane Crash Victim

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Two men were killed Wednesday when an Air Force T33 jet training plane crashed, exploded and burned 17 miles northwest of here.

The Air Force identified the two officers killed in the crash as 1st Lt. Paul M. Moore, 24, of Cozaddale (Warren County), Ohio; and 1st Lt. Richard H. Boyce, 28, of Seattle.

Moore was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Moore, Cozaddale. His wife, Dorothy, lives at Elmendorf Air Force Base here.

Business Tax Extension Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reluctant House was ready to vote today to continue business taxes at present levels for another year.

Many House members would like to cut personal income levies and other taxes this election year. But congressional leaders and the Eisenhower administration are teaming to hold the line in the face of anticipated big budget deficits this year and next.

The only other tax proposal due to come before the House would provide relief for small business firms. This, however, would be largely in the form of administrative relief, with no anticipated change in tax rates.

Stock Mart Backs Away From Highs

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market backed away cautiously from its recent 1958 highs in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were mainly off fractions. Some losses went to around a point.

The market was consolidating its rise to new peaks for the year, market analysts said. Considerable switching from one stock to another was reported.

Expected continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates and another drop in claims for jobless pay were some of the major news items behind the market.

Industrials retreated while rails were about, even on average. Utilities, steels, oils and chemicals lost ground.

Lorillard and American Tobacco, both a bit higher in early trading, erased their gains.

Youngstown Sheet, which moves more widely than other major steels, dropped more than a point. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem lost fractions.

Missouri - Kansas - Texas preferred was up about two.

American Cyanamid, Goodrich, Allied Chemical and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were off about a point each. Caterpillar was about a point to the good.

U.S. government bonds rose.

ONE OF the first victims to come tumbling down in the Korean conflict has been reborn in Seoul. Eight years after it was blown up by a Republic of Korea army officer, the historic Han river bridge is back in operation (above) on the south side of South Korea's capital city. It rises high above a vast panorama of Korean life—women doing the family wash in the river; pedestrians hurrying across a temporary pontoon bridge (right) nearby; and children at play. The pontoon bridge is barely wide enough to accommodate the heavy burdens which Korean citizens are capable of carrying on their backs. These United Press International photos show the bridge once a symbol of defeat—which has risen again as a monument to South Korea's resistance to Communism. (Central Press)

Stock Mart Backs Away From Highs

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market backed away cautiously from its recent 1958 highs in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were mainly off fractions. Some losses went to around a point.

The market was consolidating its rise to new peaks for the year, market analysts said. Considerable switching from one stock to another was reported.

Expected continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates and another drop in claims for jobless pay were some of the major news items behind the market.

Industrials retreated while rails were about even on average. Utilities, steels, oils and chemicals lost ground.

Lorillard and American Tobacco, both a bit higher in early trading, erased their gains.

Youngstown Sheet, which moves more widely than other major steels, dropped more than a point. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem lost fractions.

Missouri - Kansas - Texas preferred was up about two.

American Cyanamid, Goodrich, Allied Chemical and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were off about a point each. Caterpillar was about a point to the good.

U.S. government bonds rose.

Bridge on the River Han

ONE OF the first victims to come tumbling down in the Korean conflict has been reborn in Seoul. Eight years after it was blown up by a Republic of Korea army officer, the historic Han river bridge is back in operation (above) on the south side of South Korea's capital city. It rises high above a vast panorama of Korean life—women doing the family wash in the river; pedestrians hurrying across a temporary pontoon bridge (right) nearby; and children at play. The pontoon bridge is barely wide enough to accommodate the heavy burdens which Korean citizens are capable of carrying on their backs. These United Press International photos show the bridge once a symbol of defeat—which has risen again as a monument to South Korea's resistance to Communism. (Central Press)

MEMBERSHIP in the Ohio Pig Producers Club is open to any high school boy, enrolled in Vo-Ag in Ohio, who is conducting a sow and litter project as part of his farming program. Purpose of the organization is to give due recognition to boys who are achieving notable success in such work.

In order to become a member, requirements must be met as follows:

1. Eight or more pigs must be raisd per litter to an age of 35 days. The litter from a gilt must weigh at least 114 pounds and the litter from a sow must weigh 129 pounds. Each of the boys will receive a gold medal.

Non-Native Vets May Be Eligible For Korea Bonus

Any Korean veteran who was a resident of another state prior to his enlistment should contact the Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, in regards to the Korean Bonus.

Information has been received by Veterans Service Officer, James Shea, that other states with the Korean Bonus are inquiring of veterans, who are eligible for the bonus in other states. Shea stated Korean Conflict veterans, now living in Ohio, but enlisted in other states, may be eligible for that state's bonus, and should contact him immediately.

Local Court Makes Disposition on 17 May Cases

The Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 17 cases during May. Of this total, nine were domestic relations cases and eight were civil.

Pending as of May 1 are 89 domestic relations cases, 100 civil and 65 criminal, for a total of 254 cases pending.

Disposition by court action was reached in five domestic relations cases.

One civil case was tried by jury. Six civil cases were cognovit and default judgements. Four domestic relations and one civil cases were settled and dismissed.

Two Homes for Every Family

After a short summer recess, the politicians seeking November plums will once again hit the sawdust trail with boasts of past accomplishments and predictions of things to come for their constituents.

This year, it is rumored, the traditional chicken-in-every pot or two - cars - in-every-garage oratory will give way to more up to date offerings.

Two homes for every family, for example. Nor would pie in the sky orators be stretching their well-worn imaginations too severely with such predictions. There are already many families enjoying week-end retreats they have bought in the mountains or at the beaches.

There are many within the real estate industry who predict 10 years from now the extra home will be as commonplace as the second automobile. Nor are they speaking of the wealthy home-owners who would find fewer financial problems to operating a second home.

Many of those who are now purchasing or building their relaxation abodes are in the less than $10,000 income category. According to a survey by a national realtors association, the vacation home market is growing among those who have a monthly mortgage to meet on their "everyday" homes.

Architect - writer Bob Englebrecht has found that most individuals investing in their own fun houses 'feel that the investment is not a calculated risk but a normal growth. Each year as Dad brings home a little more money, he says, "the family goes up the scale of living. They also know they can sell these homes for almost 100 per cent profit."

Most of the summer homes, of course, are inexpensive dwellings which, while encompassing all of the necessities of a home, lack many of the social requirements of a city house. This is one of the features which have made the retreats so popular — they can be adapted to the individual's own ideas of architecture almost without reservation.

Modern week-end visitors to the woods seem to have little of the pioneer spirit, for they insist their shelter must have all the accommodations. No outhouses or wells for these vacationists. They go there to relax, not work.

What safer or more attractive promise could be made by office-seekers? The picture of a week-end retreat is not only enticing, it is becoming a reality for many without the help of Washington.

How To Land Reluctant Man

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Many a would-be June bride won't be this year.

The reason in many cases will be very simple — and her own fault: She will waste her time building up her suitor's ego.

This is all wrong. The best way for her to bring a reluctant bachelor to the point of marriage is to tear him down.

It is doubtful whether more than one out of every five men marry from strength. The rest marry from weaknesses of one kind or another.

In four cases out of five, then, the problem of a marriage-minded girl isn't to make her prospective mate feel strong and superior. It is to make him feel weak, helpless and indecisive — unable to face the terror of daily life along, with no strong shoulder such as hers to lean upon. He must be made to feel utterly dependent upon her.

How can this be done? How can a girl break down a healthy, freedom-loving bachelor so that he willingly will embrace matrimony as a refuge?

Here are a few off-hand tips:

1. Take him to the beach and let him get sunburned the color of a lobster.

2. Send to his sickbed a gift of roses—embowered in poison ivy leaves.

3. Wine him and dine him and keep him out late until he gets circles under his manly little eyes. When he shows signs of collapsing under the pace, let him know that what you'd really like is a home where you could tuck him in bed early every night and let him rest.

4. Once you've got him really worried about his health, have an insurance company mail him a few facts on male mortality, pointing out that husbands live longer and have fewer diseases than bachelors.

5. Lend him money to pay his medical and racetrack debts. Hint that, if you were married, you'd be willing to cancel not only the interest charges but the principal, too.

6. Tell him that you just got a raise and your job is safe, but that at your firm they are laying off the bachelors first and the married men last. This will really worry him.

7. Finally, as a clincher, you wistfully inform him that a handsome new fellow at your office has proposed and that, while you don't love him, still a girl has to think of her future, et cetera.

By now completely dependent upon you, broken in body and spirit, the fear-ridden bum of your choice will cave in at once and plead for you to marry him.

Which you cheerfully do. You may be getting a human wreck for a husband—a wreck you made yourself — and your conscience may trouble you a bit. But remember, you've got the rest of your life to build your new husband back into manhood again.

DeGaulle and Saint Joan

By George Sokolsky

From 1946 to 1958, Charles de Gaulle waited. He was ignored. His ideas were ignored. His following seemed to melt. Because he has a single-track mind, he was regarded as something of a madman, an adulator of Joan of Arc and Napoleon.

Men like Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill ridiculed him. And so, in 1958, when France was approaching death as a nation, Charles de Gaulle stepped forth and said, "I am France!" and France accepted the challenge.

In George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," there is a magnificent passage in which Joan of Arc says:

". . .I thought France would have friends at the court of the king of France; and I find only wolves fighting for pieces of her poor torn body. I thought God would have friends everywhere, because He is the friend of everyone; and in my innocence I believed that you who now cast me out would be like strong towers to keep harm from me.

"But I am wiser now; and nobody is any the worse for being wiser. Do not think you can frighten me by telling me that I am alone. France is alone; and God is alone; and what is my loneliness before the loneliness of my country and my God?

"I see now that the loneliness of God is His strength: what would He be if He listened to your jealous little counsels? Well, my loneliness shall be my strength too: it is better to be alone with God. . ."

I know no words that fit the present situation more aptly. For what does de Gaulle really offer France? Nothing but himself! For a short time, six months or as long as it will be before someone either kills him or erects an Arch of Triumph to the restorer of France's glory, de Gaulle offers nothing but himself.

And that may or may not be sufficient. Thus far, Khrushchev has been unchallenging; Adenauer has been quiet; Eisenhower said, "I like de Gaulle." That is something new about France. That is a new mood. Also the Casbah in Algiers has suddenly become French. Maybe it will be better to be entirely French than somewhat Egyptian!

If Algeria and Tunisia will quiet down, France may yet survive. If the multiple political parties of France can cease to exist, France will surely survive.

If de Gaulle fails altogether, what will happen. Of course, Jacques Duclos or Jacques Soustelle will take over. Either the Communists will establish a Kremlinized government or the Algerian Junta will establish a Fascist government or maybe both will happen and then there will be civil war.

The nature of a revolution is that it goes through a civil war and terror. Can de Gaulle save his generation from either or both? That is the historic question about which we shall write in 1960, God willing, but not sooner.

What is France? France is the civilization of Europe. More than Rome, it is the heart of the Western Christian civilization, for it represents not only religion and philosophy, but art and music and clothes and food. It sets the tone of every era and the mood of every European. There is no other country like France, just as there is no other city like Paris. And it has always been so for more than a thousand years.

Man lives by tradition as much as by habits. In the very amusing play, "The Music Man," a travelling salesman answers all problems by the phrase, "You don't know the territory," and there is much truth in that, because while each country regards itself as wonderful beyond doubt, France has always been wonderful as long as there has been a Europe.

Regard the character of Charles Martel, he who was called the Hammer, and the courageous knight, Roland, him, of whom the "Chanson de Roland" passed into our civilization. Had Martel not stood at Tours (732) to meet the Moors, Europe would now be Islamic for more than 1,200 years. Roland gave the tone to chivalry.

Or, think of the peasant girl, Joan of Arc of whom no wonders could have been expected except that by some miracle she saved a civilization. Or think of Voltaire and Rousseau—who can list the marvels of French individuals, not groups, not corporations, not parties—just individuals, just one man, just one woman who suddenly emerged out of nowhere and created an era!

Ohio Idle Pay Total Continues Down Swing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The number of Ohioans collecting jobless benefits continued its downward swing last week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reports.

Continuing claims dropped to 206,832, nearly 7,000 below the previous week's mark. The high-water mark was about 225,000 approximately six weeks ago.

No figures were available to indicate how much of the decrease can be attributed to workers finding employment and how much can be blamed on exhaustion of their maximum benefits.

Measures To Combat Fatigue

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

How can you fight fatigue?

The best way, of course, is to get adequate rest. There are times, I know, when you just have to get a specific chore finished, when you feel you must press on despite your weariness.

There are various methods of combating fatigue, or giving yourself a temporary lift. I want to emphasize that they should be used only for short-term emergencies. You will be courting trouble if you use these methods too frequently.

Coffee, tea and cola drinks, as most of you know, contain caffeine, which stimulates the brain and aids muscle contraction. Thus, it postpones fatigue, but it doesn't actually prevent it.

Remember not to become overstimulated. You are going to want to sleep after you have completed your emergency task, so be careful not to drink so much coffee, tea or cola that it will keep you awake hours after you have finished your work.

Small quantities of alcohol also can be a temporary help. Alcohol, of course, is a depressant, not a stimulant. However, a little aids in relieving tension and postponing fatigue.

The same holds true for smoking. Excessive smoking will make you feel more tired. Smoking a little will help fight off fatigue. The nicotine, you see, quickens the pulse rate and increases the blood sugar supply to the brain, thus relieving that tired feeling.

There are other ways of boosting the blood sugar level, too. Frequent snacks are of value. Tests indicate that the blood sugar level rises to a peak within an hour after eating a big meal, then declines rapidly.

The investigators report that eating four or five smaller meals keeps both the blood sugar and muscular efficiency at a fairly constant high level.

Eating candy might be of some aid. This, of course, also increases the blood sugar level.

Perhaps you can talk yourself into remaining alert. First, firmly establish your reasons for doing the task, then grit your teeth and do it, postponing fatigue by sheer determination.

There are also the so-called "pep pills." There is no doubt that they combat fatigue, but they may be habit-forming. I suggest that you consult your own doctor before using them.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You wanna play?"

That's the essence of Nikita Khrushchev's latest letter to President Eisenhower, proposing a big American-Soviet trade program and Soviet purchase of machinery from this country.

Play or not, this fat and reasonably happy land is in for it. The United States faces a war with the Soviet Union — a trade war, not shooting — which could be deadly when it really gets rolling.

The Soviets will use trade, plus aid, not for profit but for political penetration.

The Soviets, although they've made astonishing scientific and industrial progress, still lag behind this country in total industrial production, particularly in consumer goods.

Before they can really start a giant export trade program with the world — not just the United States — they will have to satisfy consumer demands of their own people.

First reaction in this government to Premier Khrushchev's proposal has been negative, particularly to his request for extensive credit.

But, with or without American help, a nation which has surpassed us in missile development will find a way to get the machinery it needs to satisfy its own people's wants and have plenty left over for some exporting.

Only last April Khrushchev vowed war against the West with consumer goods. He said: "Wars mean killing people. Why should we want war when we have other means — I mean consumer goods."

The more the Soviets raise the living standards of their own people, the more will be the attraction of communism for the backward peoples who want to move into the 20th century fast. They saw the Soviets do it in 40 years.

Only last week the Committee for Economic Development — a private, nonprofit group which analyzes economic problems — reported the Soviet Union is threatening the West through an economic offensive already under way by winning good will in underdeveloped countries with trade and loans.

Since the Soviets control their entire economy they should provide competition of a kind and on a scale this country has never encountered. For example: they could cut the price of any item to undersell goods from the high-priced free enterprise American economy.

Add to this unpleasant prospect the industrial development of Red China which in time should be able to find a broad market for its exports in Asia and the Pacific.

It's likely communism as we know it will change and soften — since nations like plants and animals go through evolutionary states — but the most to be expected is a softening into democratic socialism, not capitalism.

But socialism in the Soviet Union or China would still mean government control of natural resources and the means or production and distribution. In short, still a controlled economy.

The idea of American-Soviet trade or Soviet purchase of American machinery isn't something recent with Khrushchev. He's been talking of it for years, if only in informal talks with visiting Americans.

How To Land Reluctant Man

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Many a would-be June bride won't be this year.

The reason in many cases will be very simple — and her own fault: She will waste her time building up her suitor's ego.

This is all wrong. The best way for her to bring a reluctant bachelor to the point of marriage is to tear him down.

It is doubtful whether more than one out of every five men marry from strength. The rest marry from weaknesses of one kind or another.

In four cases out of five, then, the problem of a marriage-minded girl isn't to make her prospective mate feel strong and superior. It is to make him feel weak, helpless and indecisive — unable to face the terror of daily life along, with no strong shoulder such as hers to lean upon. He must be made to feel utterly dependent upon her.

How can this be done? How can a girl break down a healthy, freedom-loving bachelor so that he willingly will embrace matrimony as a refuge?

Here are a few off-hand tips:

1. Take him to the beach and let him get sunburned the color of a lobster.

2. Send to his sickbed a gift of roses—embowered in poison ivy leaves.

3. Wine him and dine him and keep him out late until he gets circles under his manly little eyes. When he shows signs of collapsing under the pace, let him know that what you'd really like is a home where you could tuck him in bed early every night and let him rest.

4. Once you've got him really worried about his health, have an insurance company mail him a few facts on male mortality, pointing out that husbands live longer and have fewer diseases than bachelors.

5. Lend him money to pay his medical and racetrack debts. Hint that, if you were married, you'd be willing to cancel not only the interest charges but the principal, too.

6. Tell him that you just got a raise and your job is safe, but that at your firm they are laying off the bachelors first and the married men last. This will really worry him.

7. Finally, as a clincher, you wistfully inform him that a handsome new fellow at your office has proposed and that, while you don't love him, still a girl has to think of her future, et cetera.

By now completely dependent upon you, broken in body and spirit, the fear-ridden bum of your choice will cave in at once and plead for you to marry him.

Which you cheerfully do. You may be getting a human wreck for a husband—a wreck you made yourself — and your conscience may trouble you a bit. But remember, you've got the rest of your life to build your new husband back into manhood again.

DeGaulle and Saint Joan

By George Sokolsky

From 1946 to 1958, Charles de Gaulle waited. He was ignored. His ideas were ignored. His following seemed to melt. Because he has a single-track mind, he was regarded as something of a madman, an adulator of Joan of Arc and Napoleon.

Men like Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill ridiculed him. And so, in 1958, when France was approaching death as a nation, Charles de Gaulle stepped forth and said, "I am France!" and France accepted the challenge.

In George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," there is a magnificent passage in which Joan of Arc says:

". . .I thought France would have friends at the court of the king of France; and I find only wolves fighting for pieces of her poor torn body. I thought God would have friends everywhere, because He is the friend of everyone; and in my innocence I believed that you who now cast me out would be like strong towers to keep harm from me.

"But I am wiser now; and nobody is any the worse for being wiser. Do not think you can frighten me by telling me that I am alone. France is alone; and God is alone; and what is my loneliness before the loneliness of my country and my God?

"I see now that the loneliness of God is His strength: what would He be if He listened to your jealous little counsels? Well, my loneliness shall be my strength too: it is better to be alone with God. . ."

I know no words that fit the present situation more aptly. For what does de Gaulle really offer France? Nothing but himself! For a short time, six months or as long as it will be before someone either kills him or erects an Arch of Triumph to the restorer of France's glory, de Gaulle offers nothing but himself.

And that may or may not be sufficient. Thus far, Khrushchev has been unchallenging; Adenauer has been quiet; Eisenhower said, "I like de Gaulle." That is something new about France. That is a new mood. Also the Casbah in Algiers has suddenly become French. Maybe it will be better to be entirely French than somewhat Egyptian!

If Algeria and Tunisia will quiet down, France may yet survive. If the multiple political parties of France can cease to exist, France will surely survive.

If de Gaulle fails altogether, what will happen. Of course, Jacques Duclos or Jacques Soustelle will take over. Either the Communists will establish a Kremlinized government or the Algerian Junta will establish a Fascist government or maybe both will happen and then there will be civil war.

The nature of a revolution is that it goes through a civil war and terror. Can de Gaulle save his generation from either or both? That is the historic question about which we shall write in 1960, God willing, but not sooner.

What is France? France is the civilization of Europe. More than Rome, it is the heart of the Western Christian civilization, for it represents not only religion and philosophy, but art and music and clothes and food. It sets the tone of every era and the mood of every European. There is no other country like France, just as there is no other city like Paris. And it has always been so for more than a thousand years.

Man lives by tradition as much as by habits. In the very amusing play, "The Music Man," a travelling salesman answers all problems by the phrase, "You don't know the territory," and there is much truth in that, because while each country regards itself as wonderful beyond doubt, France has always been wonderful as long as there has been a Europe.

Regard the character of Charles Martel, he who was called the Hammer, and the courageous knight, Roland, him, of whom the "Chanson de Roland" passed into our civilization. Had Martel not stood at Tours (732) to meet the Moors, Europe would now be Islamic for more than 1,200 years. Roland gave the tone to chivalry.

Or, think of the peasant girl, Joan of Arc of whom no wonders could have been expected except that by some miracle she saved a civilization. Or think of Voltaire and Rousseau—who can list the marvels of French individuals, not groups, not corporations, not parties—just individuals, just one man, just one woman who suddenly emerged out of nowhere and created an era!

Ohio Idle Pay Total Continues Down Swing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The number of Ohioans collecting jobless benefits continued its downward swing last week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reports.

Continuing claims dropped to 206,832, nearly 7,000 below the previous week's mark. The high-water mark was about 225,000 approximately six weeks ago.

No figures were available to indicate how much of the decrease can be attributed to workers finding employment and how much can be blamed on exhaustion of their maximum benefits.

Measures To Combat Fatigue

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

How can you fight fatigue?

The best way, of course, is to get adequate rest. There are times, I know, when you just have to get a specific chore finished, when you feel you must press on despite your weariness.

There are various methods of combating fatigue, or giving yourself a temporary lift. I want to emphasize that they should be used only for short-term emergencies. You will be courting trouble if you use these methods too frequently.

Coffee, tea and cola drinks, as most of you know, contain caffeine, which stimulates the brain and aids muscle contraction. Thus, it postpones fatigue, but it doesn't actually prevent it.

Remember not to become overstimulated. You are going to want to sleep after you have completed your emergency task, so be careful not to drink so much coffee, tea or cola that it will keep you awake hours after you have finished your work.

Small quantities of alcohol also can be a temporary help. Alcohol, of course, is a depressant, not a stimulant. However, a little aids in relieving tension and postponing fatigue.

The same holds true for smoking. Excessive smoking will make you feel more tired. Smoking a little will help fight off fatigue. The nicotine, you see, quickens the pulse rate and increases the blood sugar supply to the brain, thus relieving that tired feeling.

There are other ways of boosting the blood sugar level, too. Frequent snacks are of value. Tests indicate that the blood sugar level rises to a peak within an hour after eating a big meal, then declines rapidly.

The investigators report that eating four or five smaller meals keeps both the blood sugar and musclar efficiency at a fairly constant high level.

Eating candy might be of some aid. This, of course, also increases the blood sugar level.

Perhaps you can talk yourself into remaining alert. First, firmly establish your reasons for doing the task, then grit your teeth and do it, postponing fatigue by sheer determination.

There are also the so-called "pep pills." There is no doubt that they combat fatigue, but they may be habit-forming. I suggest that you consult your own doctor before using them.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You wanna play?"

That's the essence of Nikita Khrushchev's latest letter to President Eisenhower, proposing a big American-Soviet trade program and Soviet purchase of machinery from this country.

Play or not, this fat and reasonably happy land is in for it. The United States faces a war with the Soviet Union — a trade war, not shooting — which could be deadly when it really gets rolling.

The Soviets will use trade, plus aid, not for profit but for political penetration.

The Soviets, although they've made astonishing scientific and industrial progress, still lag behind this country in total industrial production, particularly in consumer goods.

Before they can really start a giant export trade program with the world — not just the United States — they will have to satisfy consumer demands of their own people.

First reaction in this government to Premier Khrushchev's proposal has been negative, particularly to his request for extensive credit.

But, with or without American help, a nation which has surpassed us in missile development will find a way to get the machinery it needs to satisfy its own people's wants and have plenty left over for some exporting.

Only last April Khrushchev vowed war against the West with consumer goods. He said: "Wars mean killing people. Why should we want war when we have other means — I mean consumer goods."

The more the Soviets raise the living standards of their own people, the more will be the attraction of communism for the backward peoples who want to move into the 20th century fast. They saw the Soviets do it in 40 years.

Only last week the Committee for Economic Development — a private, nonprofit group which analyzes economic problems — reported the Soviet Union is threatening the West through an economic offensive already under way by winning good will in underdeveloped countries with trade and loans.

Since the Soviets control their entire economy they should provide competition of a kind and on a scale this country has never encountered. For example: they could cut the price of any item to undersell goods from the high-priced free enterprise American economy.

Add to this unpleasant prospect the industrial development of Red China which in time should be able to find a broad market for its exports in Asia and the Pacific.

It's likely communism as we know it will change and soften — since nations like plants and animals go through evolutionary states — but the most to be expected is a softening into democratic socialism, not capitalism.

But socialism in the Soviet Union or China would still mean government control of natural resources and the means or production and distribution. In short, still a controlled economy.

The idea of American-Soviet trade or Soviet purchase of American machinery isn't something recent with Khrushchev. He's been talking of it for years, if only in informal talks with visiting Americans.

Teen-Agers Keen On Picking Hits

NEW YORK (AP)—Take two round, shiny, black records. Ten weeks from now one will be the biggest hit in America; the other will be just a sad memory for the artist who made it.

How do you tell which is which? A musical show becomes known for the quality of music it plays; if you can spot hit material far enough in advance—ideally, before release—and then "give it a ride," your audience comes to expect good records of you, and jes' grows.

But you can't make a hit out of a tune that doesn't have the potential; all you can do is bring it before a bigger audience and make more people dislike it. And spotting incipient top-tenners is a full-time job.

Aside from your own, fallible intuition, you have three main sources for tips on future hits—mail, personal contact and, most important of all, hops. It may seem unusual for a network performer to play local record hops in and around Philadelphia, at scale or gratis.

But I'd willingly pay out my own money to go on running these affairs for teen-agers, and not as a matter of charity, either. May I never get so smug that I stop doing hops; that's where I find out what records are going to do what.

We usually arrange for the 500 to 1,100 teen-agers who will be attending to submit requests in advance. A big chunk of these requests will always be for the current hits. But if I spot a sizable minority requesting a brand new record, one that's only been played on the air once or twice, I know I'm on to something. During the dance, too, I get a chance to chat with the youngsters, and I learn what records to watch.

I'm lucky enough to operate out of one of the "hippiest" areas of the country. Among the most sensitive barometers for new records are Philly, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Boston; these and a few more cities will pick up a future hit faster than any other part of the United States. In each of them I have pals in the music business, and we talk almost daily by phone.

The third major source for future hits is our mail. The surveyors tell me we get a greater volume of fan mail—that is, non-contest mail—than any other show on the air; we play to an enthusiastic and highly vocal audience. Mail is especially valuable for spotting regional hits. Sometimes a small outfit will cut a disc for, say, just the Southeast area. The kids there will tell me about it, and if enough of them are excited about the same record, I'll send for a copy and may give it a try on the show. From then on, it's up to the audience. In this music business, it's always up to the audience.

$20 Million in Ohio Road Job Bids To Be Opened Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways will open bids June 24 for the first two federal projects designed to help relieve unemployment during the recession.

In all, bids will be opened for road projects worth about 20 million dollars, including the cost of right-of-way land. Major projects include two more sections of the North-South Freeway (Ohio 1) and another section of the Cincinnati-Dayton six-lane freeway, U. S. 25.

The recession projects call for widening and resurfacing more than 12 miles of U. S. 24 in Henry and Lucas counties, to be finished Aug. 31, and improving about one mile of U. S. 224, in Medina County, including a grade separation with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. That project is to be finished by Sept. 30.

The federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost of each project from money made available recently.

One Ohio 1 project is south of Ashtabula and includes a grade separation with the New York Central Railroad. It will cost about 4 million dollars and is to be finished Sept. 30, 1959.

The other is in Lake County south of Painesville and will cost about 6 million dollars, mainly because of the number of bridges involved. It is to be finished Oct. 31, 1959.

The six-lane project on U. S. 25 is southeast of Hamilton and will cost about 5½ million dollars before it is finished July 31, 1960. The department plans to place all of the Cincinnati-Dayton Freeway under contract this year.

After contracts are awarded for the June 24 bid-opening projects, the department will have placed projects totaling 175 million dollars under contract since the first of the year.

About one million dollars worth of resurfacing work will be offered in 24 projects in these counties: Allen, Putnam, Athens, Hocking, Coshocton, Fairfield, Hamilton, Holmes, Lawrence, Lorain, Madison, Union, Mahoning, Monroe and Morgan.

During July the department will open bids for 100 or more additional resurfacing projects.

Other major projects for which bids will be opened June 24 include:

Columbiana — Improving 3.3 miles of Ohio 164 in Wayne and Center Twps.

Scioto—Improving two-thirds of one mile of U.S. 52 in Portsmouth.

Allen—Improving one-third mile of Ohio 103 in Bluffton.

Mahoning — Improving nearly one mile of Ohio 90 in Poland Twp. and building bridges over Burgess Run.

We were sadly shocked on last Friday to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. Bertha Cox who lived at her home near here. Mrs. Cox was the widow of the late Alex Cox. Her life was spent in this community. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church on Monday at 1:30 and was followed by burial in Pleasant Cemetery. She leaves a daughter Edna, grandson Paul and one great grandson besides a large number of other relatives and friends.

$20 Million in Ohio Road Job Bids To Be Opened Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways will open bids June 24 for the first two federal projects designed to help relieve unemployment during the recession.

In all, bids will be opened for road projects worth about 20 million dollars, including the cost of right-of-way land. Major projects include two more sections of the North-South Freeway (Ohio 1) and another section of the Cincinnati-Dayton six-lane freeway, U. S. 25.

The recession projects call for widening and resurfacing more than 12 miles of U. S. 24 in Henry and Lucas counties, to be finished Aug. 31, and improving about one mile of U. S. 224, in Medina County, including a grade separation with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. That project is to be finished by Sept. 30.

The federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost of each project from money made available recently.

One Ohio 1 project is south of Ashtabula and includes a grade separation with the New York Central Railroad. It will cost about 4 million dollars and is to be finished Sept. 30, 1959.

The other is in Lake County south of Painesville and will cost about 6 million dollars, mainly because of the number of bridges involved. It is to be finished Oct. 31, 1959.

The six-lane project on U. S. 25 is southeast of Hamilton and will cost about 5½ million dollars before it is finished July 31, 1960. The department plans to place all of the Cincinnati-Dayton Freeway under contract this year.

After contracts are awarded for the June 24 bid-opening projects, the department will have placed projects totaling 175 million dollars under contract since the first of the year.

About one million dollars worth of resurfacing work will be offered in 24 projects in these counties: Allen, Putnam, Athens, Hocking, Coshocton, Fairfield, Hamilton, Holmes, Lawrence, Lorain, Madison, Union, Mahoning, Monroe and Morgan.

During July the department will open bids for 100 or more additional resurfacing projects.

Other major projects for which bids will be opened June 24 include:

Columbiana — Improving 3.3 miles of Ohio 164 in Wayne and Center Twps.

Scioto—Improving two-thirds of one mile of U.S. 52 in Portsmouth.

Allen—Improving one-third mile of Ohio 103 in Bluffton.

Mahoning — Improving nearly one mile of Ohio 90 in Poland Twp. and building bridges over Burgess Run.

Miss Hinton, Mr. Hamilton United in Marriage

Miss Betty Jean Hinton became the bride of Mr. James Allen Hamilton at 7:30 p. m. May 28 in the Hebron Methodist Church. The Rev. Robert S. Clair officiated at the double ring ceremony. An arrangement of spring garden flowers was the setting for the candlelight service.

Miss Hinton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hinton, Route 1, Orient and Mr. Hamilton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton Sr., Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon ballerina length gown with a design of Lilies of the valley. Her elbow length veil of illusion was held by a white lace and nylon tulle hat.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a yellow orchid on a white Bible.

The maid of honor was Betty Lou Stump, Columbus. She wore a mint green gown with white trimming, a white picture hat and other white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and red rose buds.

David Hinton, brother of the bride served as best man for Mr. Hamilton.

The brides mother chose a navy blue linen frock with white dots for her daughters wedding. She wore navy blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegrooms mother chose a navy blue and white frock with white accessories. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

The ceremony was preceded with musical selections played by Judith Ann Hinton cousin of the bride. Joycelyn Sullivan and Kathryn Breckenridge, both of Columbus sang, "Through the Years", "Always", and "The Lords Prayer". Timmy, Tommy and Terry Hamilton, nephews of the groom and cousins of the bride sang, "Oh Promise Me."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The hostesses for the occasion were Miss Linda Hinton, Miss Joanne Hunsinger and Miss Gladys Hines.

The bride is a graduate of Madison Local School, London and is employed by the Buckeye Union Casualty Company, Columbus.

The groom attended Monroe Twp. High School and served four years in the United States Navy. He is presently employed by the Kentucky Central Life and Accident Insurance Company, Columbus.

Changes Due In U.S. 'Sacks'

Designers To Show New 'Relaxed Look'

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's garment district took on the characteristics of a record day at the stock exchange today as buyers from all sections of the country jammed the showrooms of 7th Avenue, nervously awaiting the unveiling of new fall fashions.

While the great chemise controversy still raged from coast to coast, the dilemma facing the nation's buyers was: Will women heed their husbands' protest against the sack, or will they defy them and buy the new clothes anyway?

First news from the embattled fashion front is that manufacturers have provided a few alternatives to the sack for fall. The first dress and suit collections to open continue the "relaxed look" which camouflages the waistline, but offer a choice of several silhouettes. The most important appears to be the high-waisted Empire look, with the belt just below the bustline, the skirt falling loose and free. The next is the bloused silhouette, with belt or band somewhere around the hips.

Indications on the first day of the openings is that the woman of fashion may wear her belt almost anywhere next fall except at the normal waistline. Some of the more extreme fashions show a belt about six inches above the knees, often with a flared or pleated flounce below.

The few fitted, full-skirted sytles shown are principally for late-day or evening wear. Some canny evening dress designers show a transparent lace or chiffon chemise or loose coat over a carefully fitted slip, thus bowing to the new mode while preserving due attention to the lines of the feminine figure.

Skirts are barely below the knees in costumes for all occasions, except for full-length ball gowns.

A series of falls, eight miles wide, on the Mekong River in China handles a volume of water about twice that of Niagara, says the National Geographic Society.

2 Cardinal Rules Outlined For Girls Seeking Careers

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The sky's the limit for girls seeking careers in television—or any other business—if they observe two cardinal rules:

1. Never let men feel you are competing with them.

2. Always make the boss look good.

The sound authority for this advice is a blonde dynamo named Rose Tobias, who holds down one of the most important jobs in television. As casting director for one of New York's biggest producing firms, she chooses the cast for major TV and Broadway shows

"It's a man's world—and thank goodness it is!" says the glamorous Rose. "But there's plenty of opportunity in it for women too, if they don't go around making noises like feminists and carrying a constant chip on the shoulder.

"I never try to make a man think I'm smarter than he is, and I always believe in making the men I work with look good."

In the Talent Associates firm of which Rose is an executive there are 16 girls employed and seven men. Currently, Rose is working on the TV production of "Member of the Wedding."

To the thousands of college girls who will start out this month, diplomas in hand, looking for jobs in television, Rose has some more specific advice: "The way to get your toe in the door is to start as a secretary. That's the easiest and quickest way for a girl to start a career in any field. Every business always needs competent secretaries. And once you're on the inside, you can pick up knowledge fast."

The thing nobody can understand is how Rose, who combines brains and beauty to an unusual degree, has managed to remain unmarried, when she meets the world's most attractive men every day. She explains: "I guess I just turn casting director when I meet an eligible man, and decide he's not the type."

In the Talent Associates firm of which Rose is an executive there are 16 girls employed and seven men. Currently, Rose is working on the TV production of "Member of the Wedding."

To the thousands of college girls who will start out this month, diplomas in hand, looking for jobs in television, Rose has some more specific advice: "The way to get your toe in the door is to start as a secretary. That's the easiest and quickest way for a girl to start a career in any field. Every business always needs competent secretaries. And once you're on the inside, you can pick up knowledge fast."

The thing nobody can understand is how Rose, who combines brains and beauty to an unusual degree, has managed to remain unmarried, when she meets the world's most attractive men every day. She explains: "I guess I just turn casting director when I meet an eligible man, and decide he's not the type."

If you are planning on a fun vacation this summer, you'll probably be interested in these very chic and wearable clothes that were especially selected with travel in mind.

Though the tree costumes pictured are very different in style and silhouette, they all have one very important trait in common. Each dress is made of a combination of acetate and nylon that is wrinkle-resistant, hand - washable and quick-drying.

Along with these virtues, the knitted fabric keeps its original shape on even the longest plane flight or automobile trip.

HERE'S A PERFECT outfit for the girl with travel on her calendar. It is a simple, washable two-piece knitted costume.

A SELF BELT, cap sleeves feature this vacation special.

THERE'S a lean and easy fit to this modified chemise.

Sun Bathers Watch Out for Those Burns

By BARBARA

With warm sunny days ahead, you will probably take advantage of them by sun bathing, swimming etc. In doing so a person should take precautions against burning.

We have a few words of advice we would like to pass on. A person should use suntan lotion. The lotion screens burning rays and admits the tanning rays.

Medical authorities recommend gradual exposure to the sun. We have found a chart of exposure time for the different type person.

For brunettes, two 15-20 minute exposures the first day, two 30-45 minute periods the next, then only gradual increase afterwards.

Blondes, redheads and others with low telerance should begin with 5 or 10 minutes.

A person is advised not to doze in the sun.

The canvas type shoes for the little ones seems to be real popular again this year. The nice advantage is they are washable. Since it is so nice it is really hard to keep the little ones in.

The shoes can be found styled like mother's. They come in assorted colors. They tie, have straps or are plain.

Many of the local stores are displaying them now.

We have found a new liquid soap which will lengthen the life of a swim suit while offering protection from shrinkage and running of colors.

Here's a tip on how to properly wash your suit.

Make suds using a capful of the new soap to a basin of cold water. Soak garmet from three to ten minutes, basing length of time on the amount of soil. Then squeeze suds gently through the garment.

Remove spots or deep-set dirt by rubbing carefully with a soft brush and an undiluted application of the liquid soap.

Rinse several times in cold water. When the water remains clear, garment is thoroughly rinsed.

Harvester Union Asks Profit-Sharing Deal

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (UAW) of the International Harvester Co. is asking a profit-sharing plan be included in a new contract, union spokesmen say.

Under the proposed profit sharing plan, 25 per cent of IHC's gross profit, after a deduction of 10 per cent of the net capital, would be divided among all employes, union and non-union alike. The union proposes that 50 per cent of the profits would go to stockholders, with the remaining 25 per cent being rebated to customers.

Vacationing Dulles Helps Wife with Her Housework

NEW YORK (AP) — Relaxing from the cares of state, John Foster Dulles squeezes lemon juice for his wife, washes and dries the breakfast dishes and splits small wood.

This glimpse of the secretary of state on vacation comes from a log of their latest trip to their cabin on Duck Island in Lake Ontario.

The diary "By Janet and Foster Dulles" is published today in a copyrighted story in the New York Herald Tribune.

Dulles generally gets up at 7 a.m. and starts an open fire going. The lemon squeezing done, his wife gets up, and, if the water is warm enough, she swims.

Breakfast is consumed leisurely in an hour. After Dulles washes and dries the dishes, he dumps the garbage and contents of wastepaper baskets; hauls water, splits small wood, and brings logs and the wood into the cabin for the day's fires.

There is no luncheon at Duck Island. Most of the day, the log reports, the Dulleses spend considerable time and effort keeping themselves living comfortably.

In the early spring and fall, the hours from 10:30 to 4:30 are spent in walks, looking for deer, birds and flowers. Maples are tapped for syrup and dead trees cut down, sawed and chipped, in the spring.

Summer means fishing, sailing and canoeing. Berries are picked according to season.

On rainy days, Dulles often works on speeches and his wife types for him.

The dinner meal is quite elaborate and carefully thought out. It is cooked largely over an open fire and follows cocktails and hors d'oeuvres — outdoors if weather permits.

A typical dinner includes hickory nuts from the island; raw carrots and celery; tinned lobster, crab or anchoives; broiled giblets or pate de foie gras; soup or fish and meat, generally chops, beefsteak, chicken or veal cutlets; and two green vegetables; and potatoes or rice.

That's not all. Pie or homemade pudding follow, salad with French dressing in warm weather; and cheese with pie or, usually, with cognac.

Then, after a walk or canoeing if weather permits, the day closes at 9 p.m. with Mrs. Dulles reading aloud some book of travel or adventure.

Nixon Set To Address Ohio GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has accepted an invitation to address the Ohio State Republican Convention in Columbus Oct. 9.

His acceptance coincided with a visit to Washington by Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss to confer with Republican Sen. John W. Bricker and other GOP members of the Ohio delegation.

Nixon addressed the Ohio GOP convention in both 1952 and 1954.

Newest Data Due for Study On Economy

Business Chiefs Split On Meaning of Old National Figures

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Evaluating the new business statistics may be harder than usual this month. The temptation will be to read too much into them.

Business leaders already are split on the meaning of the old figures. And the new flood this week and next — on unemployment, industrial output, personal incomes—may shed less light than previously hoped.

Those who say they already can see the dawn of a new day will stress such things as the decline in unemployment between mid-April and mid-May, ignoring the fact that joblessness usually drops then, be times good or bad.

Those who say it's too early to tell about the recession's course yet will emphasize the expected rise in unemployment this month, ignoring the fact that it usually does rise when the schools let out a horde of new jobseekers.

Stockholders attending annual meetings have had a wide variety of forecasts to ponder. These range from flat statements by corporate executives that business is better and the outlook brighter to warnings that while there are glimmerings here and there signs of economic strength are insufficient yet to warrant any real optimism.

Bankers and their economists also are inclined to read the tea leaves differently.

In its June survey the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York says: "Signs of leveling out are no longer faint and sketchy. Rather, they have become quite numerous and are beginning to fall into an impressive pattern."

In its June letter the First National City Bank of New York says: "The business reports in May have included signs of betterment, which have improved business sentiment even though they supply no proof that a real turning point in the recession has been reached."

Guaranty Trust warns against believing there will be no more declines in some sectors of the economy, noting that "the summer period is always characterized by substantial seasonal swings, which are difficult to allow for."

And the National City hedges its stand by saying, "It is quite possible that this summer's flurry of plant shutdowns, inventory reductions, and increased unemployment will mark the climax of the decline."

Railroader Handed Term for Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — William D. Batson, stocky 28-year-old railroad fireman, faces 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for manslaughter. He was saved by a jury from the state's demand that he go to the electric chair for the slaying of his estranged wife, Isabel.

His seven-day first-degree murder trial ended late Wednesday. Judge Carson Hoy immediately pronounced sentence.

Batson broke into tears at the verdict, returned by the jury of eight men and four women. "I expected some punishment and I deserved it for causing my wife's death," he sobbed.

Churchman Named

TORONTO (AP) — The Rev. Dr. John McNab of Toronto has been unanimously elected moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada at the church's 84th general assembly. The 71-year-old clergyman succeeds the Rev. A. D. MacKinnon of Narrows, N. S.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

By MRS. ART DEAL, JR.

Guy Swisher, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Swisher, 129 E. Longview, Columbus, was hurt painfully Sunday while visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sark, E. Main St., Ashville.

The boy, while riding a bicycle on Main St., was struck by a large limb which was broken during the recent windstorm but had not fallen. It was held by electric wires. The strong winds Sunday caused it to fall at the time the boy was passing under it.

The boy was taken to White Cross Hospital emergency room where seven stitches were required to close the wound in his head.

Mrs. Charles Gray and Miss Grace Irwin of Toledo visited and had lunch with their niece, Mrs. Warren Bastian and family, Tuesday.

Jo Ellen Essick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essick was graduated Monday morning in Capital University. She majored in Pre-Social Work. Mr. and Mrs. Essick attended the 10 a. m. graduation ceremonies held in the Alumni Gym.

Miss Essick was president of the Sociology Club, chairman of the Creative Arts Committee, and a member of Kappa Sigma Theta. She plans to visit with her sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Biddison of St. Petersburg, Fla., for a couple of weeks and then return to act as counselor at Girl Scout Campfire Camp located south of Lancaster, Camp Wyandot, for the remainder of the summer. This winter she plans to enter pre-social work.

A TEAM OF alumni women defeated the high school girls Monday evening in three gamts of volleyball. Women who are out of high school may enter into this weekly night of recreation. Mrs. Jim Courtright instructs the group which meets at the school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal, Jr., Jim and Jody, entertained the following to a Memorial Day picnic at Jim-Jody Acres: Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mrs. Mildreth Messick, Mr. and Mrs. Nolo Gulick, Karen and Mick, of Ashville, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gulick and Dean of Circleville.

A group of people from Ashville enjoyed the Memorial Day weekend camping at Lake White cruising their boats and water skiing on the lake. The camping party included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Courtright and Mike, Mrs. Charles Trone, Joy and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seymour and sons, Bob Peters and Betty Kocher.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Engle, Grace and Sue, spent several days in Sandyville, W. Va., visiting relatives. Their nephew, Billy, returned to spend a couple of weeks with them.

The Bastian Funeral Home returned Mrs. Emmit Timmons to her home in Duvall from Mercy Hospital, Saturday, May 31.

The Ashville Garden Club will tour the Park of Roses Thursday, June 12. They will leave Ashville at 9 a. m. Interested persons planning to go are to call Miss Florence Brown, phone 4754 or Mrs. Floyd Hook, phone 2541.

The Ashville Community Club met Tuesday evening for a steak dinner and meeting at Reed's Restaurant. The Ashville Council members were guests.

Dale Schiff, president, presided at the business meeting. Each committee reported on their progress and plans for the 4th of July Celebration to be held the 2, 3, and 4th. The Judo Team from Lockbourne Air Force Base will be part of the featured entertainment.

The council members explained to the club the proposal annexation to the village.

MR. AND Mrs. C. L. Fry, Route 1, Ashville, received a cablegram from their son, Airman 2nd Class Ralph Fry, stationed in Turkey but at the present touring Europe. He is attending the World's Fair in Brussels and the Baptist Convention of which he is Minister of Music for Freewill Baptist from the state of Ohio.

The Fry's are expecting their son home in the near future.

The Ashville Council met Monday evening, June 2. The group passed an ordinance which prohibited minors under 18 from frequenting, loitering, or remaining in any establishment wherein beer or intoxicating liquors are served unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

The tennis courts in the community park have been sealed and new nets will be constructed by the village. They will be made out of commercial chain link fence. Backstops will be prepared also.

Council members Don Wean and Paul Smith were appointed to meet with the Community Club president and vice president in selection of new corporation signs to be installed upon entering Ashville.

A petition, signed by residents near and around East and Cherry Streets, was presented to council asking that a traffic light be installed at this intersection. The matter was tabled, after considerable discussion, until the next regular council meeting. At that time the Council vote on four proposals for the intersection.

Firemen asked permission to send two firemen to a convention in Akron to be held in August. This will be decided at a later meeting.

Council ordered the removal of paved surface which extends on the grassed area of Jefferson Blvd. Work on this will be started promptly.

Miss Carol Mahaffey entered White Cross Hospital Tuesday. Carol, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mahaffey of Columbus, has been staying the past year with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Ashville.

U.S. Show Biz 'Diplomat' Plugs for Soviet Exchange

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sol Hurok, who qualifies as the John Foster Dulles of show biz, came to town plumping for more cultural exchange with Russia.

"The more we exchange artists with the Communists, the better our chances for peace," said the bullet - shaped impresario. 'The success of the cultural exchange proves that John Smith and Ivan Speanovich are interested in friendship."

Hurok is the No. 1 man in the new program. At present, he is sponsoring the U. S. tour of the sensational Moiseyev dance troupe. He has sent or is sending his own artists to Russia for tours —such names as Marian Anderson, Jan Peerce, Leonard Warren, Isaac Stern, Roberta Peters and Nathan Milstein.

'The reception of our performers there is just as sensational as the reaction to the Moiseyev dancers," Hurok declared. "It is a great thing for both countries."

There can be no doubt of the success of the Moiseyev company. It will play to a half-million customers in an 11-week tour.

Hurok has more Russian delights up his sleeve. On Nov. 5, he brings the Berioska company of 65 women dancers to New York. He is also importing a noted pianist, violinist and lieder singer from Russia and next spring will see the invasion of the great Bolshoi ballet.

Russian-born Hurok, who arrived at Ellis Island in 1906 with a $1.50 stake, has journeyed to his native land four times in the past year to book talent. With his fine eye for potential attractions, he can spot stars that the Russians have underestimated.

"I told them they didn't realize what they had in the Moiseyev dancers," he said.

On the reverse, Americans also overlook native talent, he commented.

"We have hundreds of fine singers in the country, but no outlet for their talents," said Hurok. "When I audition singers in Europe, half of them are often Americans who were unable to achieve recognition at home."

C&O Railroad Earnings Show Business Upturn

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—May earnings of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad give evidence of a definite upturn in the economic trend, an official says.

M. I. Dunn of Cleveland, vice president in charge of operations, reported C&O gross operating revenues totaled $28,604,000, compared to $26,481,000 in April.

Net earnings in May were $3,770,000, compared to $2,914,000 in April, Dunn said.

Newest Data Due for Study On Economy

Business Chiefs Split On Meaning of Old National Figures

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Evaluating the new business statistics may be harder than usual this month. The temptation will be to read too much into them.

Business leaders already are split on the meaning of the old figures. And the new flood this week and next — on unemployment, industrial output, personal incomes—may shed less light than previously hoped.

Those who say they already can see the dawn of a new day will stress such things as the decline in unemployment between mid-April and mid-May, ignoring the fact that joblessness usually drops then, be times good or bad.

Those who say it's too early to tell about the recession's course yet will emphasize the expected rise in unemployment this month, ignoring the fact that it usually does rise when the schools let out a horde of new jobseekers.

Stockholders attending annual meetings have had a wide variety of forecasts to ponder. These range from flat statements by corporate executives that business is better and the outlook brighter to warnings that while there are glimmerings here and there signs of economic strength are insufficient yet to warrant any real optimism.

Bankers and their economists also are inclined to read the tea leaves differently.

In its June survey the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York says: "Signs of leveling out are no longer faint and sketchy. Rather, they have become quite numerous and are beginning to fall into an impressive pattern."

In its June letter the First National City Bank of New York says: 'The business reports in May have included signs of betterment, which have improved business sentiment even though they supply no proof that a real turning point in the recession has been reached."

Guaranty Trust warns against believing there will be no more declines in some sectors of the economy, noting that "the summer period is always characterized by substantial seasonal swings, which are difficult to allow for."

And the National City hedges its stand by saying, "It is quite possible that this summer's flurry of plant shutdowns, inventory reductions, and increased unemployment will mark the climax of the decline."

Railroader Handed Term for Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — William D. Batson, stocky 28-year-old railroad fireman, faces 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for manslaughter. He was saved by a jury from the state's demand that he go to the electric chair for the slaying of his estranged wife, Isabel.

His seven-day first-degree murder trial ended late Wednesday. Judge Carson Hoy immediately pronounced sentence.

Batson broke into tears at the verdict, returned by the jury of eight men and four women. "I expected some punishment and I deserved it for causing my wife's death," he sobbed.

Churchman Named

TORONTO (AP) — The Rev. Dr. John McNab of Toronto has been unanimously elected moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada at the church's 84th general assembly. The 71-year-old clergyman succeeds the Rev. A. D. MacKinnon of Narrows, N. S.

Ashville News Report

By MRS. ART DEAL, JR.

Guy Swisher, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Swisher, 129 E. Longview, Columbus, was hurt painfully Sunday while visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sark, E. Main St., Ashville.

The boy, while riding a bicycle on Main St., was struck by a large limb which was broken during the recent windstorm but had not fallen. It was held by electric wires. The strong winds Sunday caused it to fall at the time the boy was passing under it.

The boy was taken to White Cross Hospital emergency room where seven stitches were required to close the wound in his head.

Mrs. Charles Gray and Miss Grace Irwin of Toledo visited and had lunch with their niece, Mrs. Warren Bastian and family, Tuesday.

Jo Ellen Essick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essick was graduated Monday morning in Capital University. She majored in Pre-Social Work. Mr. and Mrs. Essick attended the 10 a. m. graduation ceremonies held in the Alumni Gym.

Miss Essick was president of the Sociology Club, chairman of the Creative Arts Committee, and a member of Kappa Sigma Theta. She plans to visit with her sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Biddison of St. Petersburg, Fla., for a couple of weeks and then return to act as counselor at Girl Scout Campfire Camp located south of Lancaster, Camp Wyandot, for the remainder of the summer. This winter she plans to enter pre-social work.

A TEAM OF alumni women defeated the high school girls Monday evening in three gamts of volleyball. Women who are out of high school may enter into this weekly night of recreation. Mrs. Jim Courtright instructs the group which meets at the school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal, Jr., Jim and Jody, entertained the following to a Memorial Day picnic at Jim-Jody Acres: Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mrs. Mildreth Messick, Mr. and Mrs. Nolo Gulick, Karen and Mick, of Ashville, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gulick and Dean of Circleville.

A group of people from Ashville enjoyed the Memorial Day weekend camping at Lake White cruising their boats and water skiing on the lake. The camping party included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Courtright and Mike, Mrs. Charles Trone, Joy and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seymour and sons, Bob Peters and Betty Kocher.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Engle, Grace and Sue, spent several days in Sandyville, W. Va., visiting relatives. Their nephew, Billy, returned to spend a couple of weeks with them.

The Bastian Funeral Home returned Mrs. Emmit Timmons to her home in Duvall from Mercy Hospital, Saturday, May 31.

The Ashville Garden Club will tour the Park of Roses Thursday, June 12. They will leave Ashville at 9 a. m. Interested persons planning to go are to call Miss Florence Brown, phone 4754 or Mrs. Floyd Hook, phone 2541.

The Ashville Community Club met Tuesday evening for a steak dinner and meeting at Reed's Restaurant. The Ashville Council members were guests.

Dale Schiff, president, presided at the business meeting. Each committee reported on their progress and plans for the 4th of July Celebration to be held the 2, 3, and 4th. The Judo Team from Lockbourne Air Force Base will be part of the featured entertainment.

The council members explained to the club the proposal annexation to the village.

MR. AND Mrs. C. L. Fry, Route 1, Ashville, received a cablegram from their son, Airman 2nd Class Ralph Fry, stationed in Turkey but at the present touring Europe. He is attending the World's Fair in Brussels and the Baptist Convention of which he is Minister of Music for Freewill Baptist from the state of Ohio.

The Fry's are expecting their son home in the near future.

The Ashville Council met Monday evening, June 2. The group passed an ordinance which prohibited minors under 18 from frequenting, loitering, or remaining in any establishment wherein beer or intoxicating liquors are served unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

The tennis courts in the community park have been sealed and new nets will be constructed by the village. They will be made out of commercial chain link fence. Backstops will be prepared also.

Council members Don Wean and Paul Smith were appointed to meet with the Community Club president and vice president in selection of new corporation signs to be installed upon entering Ashville.

A petition, signed by residents near and around East and Cherry Streets, was presented to council asking that a traffic light be installed at this intersection. The matter was tabled, after considerable discussion, until the next regular council meeting. At that time the Council vote on four proposals for the intersection.

Firemen asked permission to send two firemen to a convention in Akron to be held in August. This will be decided at a later meeting.

Council ordered the removal of paved surface which extends on the grassed area of Jefferson Blvd. Work on this will be started promptly.

Miss Carol Mahaffey entered White Cross Hospital Tuesday. Carol, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mahaffey of Columbus, has been staying the past year with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Ashville.

U.S. Show Biz 'Diplomat' Plugs for Soviet Exchange

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sol Hurok, who qualifies as the John Foster Dulles of show biz, came to town plumping for more cultural exchange with Russia.

"The more we exchange artists with the Communists, the better our chances for peace," said the bullet - shaped impresario. 'The success of the cultural exchange proves that John Smith and Ivan Speanovich are interested in friendship."

Hurok is the No. 1 man in the new program. At present, he is sponsoring the U. S. tour of the sensational Moiseyev dance troupe. He has sent or is sending his own artists to Russia for tours —such names as Marian Anderson, Jan Peerce, Leonard Warren, Isaac Stern, Roberta Peters and Nathan Milstein.

'The reception of our performers there is just as sensational as the reaction to the Moiseyev dancers," Hurok declared. "It is a great thing for both countries."

There can be no doubt of the success of the Moiseyev company. It will play to a half-million customers in an 11-week tour.

Hurok has more Russian delights up his sleeve. On Nov. 5, he brings the Berioska company of 65 women dancers to New York. He is also importing a noted pianist, violinist and lieder singer from Russia and next spring will see the invasion of the great Bolshoi ballet.

Russian-born Hurok, who arrived at Ellis Island in 1906 with a $1.50 stake, has journeyed to his native land four times in the past year to book talent. With his fine eye for potential attractions, he can spot stars that the Russians have underestimated.

"I told them they didn't realize what they had in the Moiseyev dancers," he said.

On the reverse, Americans also overlook native talent, he commented.

"We have hundreds of fine singers in the country, but no outlet for their talents," said Hurok. "When I audition singers in Europe, half of them are often Americans who were unable to achieve recognition at home."

C&O Railroad Earnings Show Business Upturn

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—May earnings of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad give evidence of a definite upturn in the economic trend, an official says.

M. I. Dunn of Cleveland, vice president in charge of operations, reported C&O gross operating revenues totaled $28,604,000, compared to $26,481,000 in April.

Net earnings in May were $3,770,000, compared to $2,914,000 in April, Dunn said.

Wheat Marketing Vote Due June 20

Pickaway County wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, Luther J. List, chairman of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Mr. List explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law, Leist declared.

List pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat states — those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Ohio has an allotment of 1,559,396 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

• • •

"THE MEANING of the term "eligible voter" is only slightly different from what it was in last year's vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop," Luther J. List, chairman of the Pickaway ASC Committee, declares. "This change results from new legislation which provided a feed wheat program and in effect modified the wheat marketing quota provisions."

Under the feed wheat program, farmers whose applications for feed wheat privilege are approved and whose allotments are less than 30 acres may grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without becoming liable for marketing quota penalties.

List emphasizes that each individual's right to vote depends entirely upon his or her own qualifications. This applies also to minors who are producers.

Farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote in the June 20 wheat referendum should get in touch with the County ASC Office for further information. If a voter's elibibility to vote should be questioned, he may vote a "challenged ballot", which will be tabulated later as valid when and if its validity can be established.

Voting places for the referendum are:

Circleville, Washington, Wayne Twps., American Legion Hall, E. Main St., Circleville; Darby Twp., Township House; Deercreek Twp., Pavillion;

Harrison and Madison Twps., Township House; Jackson Twp., Twonship House; Monroe and Muhlenberg Twps., Township House;

Perry Twp., School House Atlanta; Pickaway Twp., School House; Saltcreek Twp. School House; Scioto Twp., Township House and Walnut Twp. Township House.

Eligible voters may cast their ballots at their local polling place any time between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. June 20, the chairman said.

Dr. Samuel Shellabarger wrote his first novel, "The Captain From Castile," while headmaster of the Columbus School for Girls, Columbus.

Every Dad Has His Day This Year It's June 15

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

On this one day in every year
It's open season on Father dear—
A day which Mother greets with glee,
A day when all the kids shout, "Whee!
Here's our chance to spruce up Dad,
Dress him up in the latest fad,
Make him a smoothie instead of a square,
Give him some stuff he'll have to wear!"
So Mom and the girls have a shopping spree
And shower poor Dad with stylish debris—
Hand-painted neckties and hand-clocked sox,
Lotions and notions by the box,
Shouting the while in accents gay:
"Oh happy, happy Father's Day!"

It's plain that Dad can hardly bear it,
But what can he do but grin and wear it?

Long-suffering fathers will be deluged once again this year with shirts that don't fit, ties that don't match, socks that shrink. Their big day is June 15.

Just for a change, why not put a little serious thought into Dad's gift, and give him something he actually can use? Take a little time for detective work, and observe what's missing or wearing out in his wardrobe, what gadgets bring a gleam to his eye when he passes a shop window, what equipment he needs for his favorite sport.

If you buy those old standbys, socks, shirts or ties, for goodness' sake check the following points:

Look at his old ones and get the right size. Also get the same style he buys for himself. In buying shirts, be careful that you have not only neck size but also sleeve length, that you get the kind of collar he prefers and bow to his tastes as to plain or French cuffs. If he's a dyed-in-the-wool conservative don't try to force him into bright red socks or a shocking pink sports shirt.

Safest is an accessory or piece of equipment for his favorite sport or hobby. Here are some suggestions for classified Dads:

Golfer: There's a new Swiss gold watch just out that fastens on the belt, snaps open at a touch and is set on a slant for visibility.

Lounger: Try one of the new belts in fine soft leather, contoured for body fit, that fasten with a snap instead of a buckle and have a small, discreet monogrammed disc. These also can be made in fabric to match his suit or slacks.

Camera fan: Maybe he needs an exposure meter or a new flash attachment. Just cleaning out a corner for a darkroom might be the nicest thing you could do.

Fisherman: This is easy — he always has his eye on a new kind of rod, reel or waders. Just be sure you find out which kind.

Hunter: Ammunition for his pet gun will set him up for the season.

Gardener: How about a new power lawn mower? Or if that isn't within your budget, just replace that hoe with the broken handle.

Traveling man: A small compact leather shoe kit, containing brush, buffer and polish, will fit in his suitcase, keep him well polished.

Homebody: Well, there's always a pipe and slippers.

It sometimes gets so cold in Alberta, Canada, that a man working in the open air avoids running for fear of frosting his lungs by inhaling too heavily.

Coast Guard Stops Ketch Golden Rule

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guardsmen stopped pacifists from sailing the ketch Golden Rule toward the Atomic Energy Commission's test area again Wednesday. — this time on the high seas.

Albert Smith Bigelow, Cos Cob, Conn., the Golden Rule's skipper, was arrested before the ketch sailed on a charge that he conspired to violate a federal court injunction against the sailing.

William Huntington, St. James, Long Island, N.Y., returned to Honolulu, providing a navigator just in time to get the 30-foot vessel under way.

George Willoughby, Blackwood Terrace, N.J., one of the crew, said the ketch was well outside the three-mile territorial limit when the Coast Guard caught up. Huntington was arrested on the return to Honolulu.

A previous attempt to sail was made May 1. That resulted in Judge Jon Wing finding the crew guilty of violating his injunction against the trip. He gave them suspended sentences and put them on probation for a year that time.

Other crewmen are Orion Sherwood, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and James Peck, New York City. Bigelow, Huntington and Willoughby are Quakers. Sherwood is a Methodist. Peck says he is a nonreligious pacifist.

The three U.S. atomic submarines are the Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate. A fourth one, the Spipjack, will be launched before the end of 1958.

Wheat Marketing Vote Due June 20

Pickaway County wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, Luther J. List, chairman of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Mr. List explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law, Leist declared.

List pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat states — those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Ohio has an allotment of 1,559,396 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

• • •

"THE MEANING of the term "eligible voter" is only slightly different from what it was in last year's vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop," Luther J. List, chairman of the Pickaway ASC Committee, declares. "This change results from new legislation which provided a feed wheat program and in effect modified the wheat marketing quota provisions."

Under the feed wheat program, farmers whose applications for feed wheat privilege are approved and whose allotments are less than 30 acres may grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without becoming liable for marketing quota penalties.

List emphasizes that each individual's right to vote depends entirely upon his or her own qualifications. This applies also to minors who are producers.

Farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote in the June 20 wheat referendum should get in touch with the County ASC Office for further information. If a voter's elibibility to vote should be questioned, he may vote a "challenged ballot", which will be tabulated later as valid when and if its validity can be established.

Voting places for the referendum are:

Circleville, Washington, Wayne Twps., American Legion Hall, E. Main St., Circleville; Darby Twp., Township House; Deercreek Twp., Pavillion;

Harrison and Madison Twps., Township House; Jackson Twp., Twonship House; Monroe and Muhlenberg Twps., Township House;

Perry Twp., School House Atlanta; Pickaway Twp., School House; Saltcreek Twp. School House; Scioto Twp., Township House and Walnut Twp. Township House.

Eligible voters may cast their ballots at their local polling place any time between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. June 20, the chairman said.

Dr. Samuel Shellabarger wrote his first novel, "The Captain From Castile," while headmaster of the Columbus School for Girls, Columbus.

Every Dad Has His Day This Year It's June 15

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

On this one day in every year
It's open season on Father dear—
A day which Mother greets with glee,
A day when all the kids shout, "Whee!
Here's our chance to spruce up Dad,
Dress him up in the latest fad,
Make him a smoothie instead of a square,
Give him some stuff he'll have to wear!"
So Mom and the girls have a shopping spree
And shower poor Dad with stylish debris—
Hand-painted neckties and hand-clocked sox,
Lotions and notions by the box,
Shouting the while in accents gay:
"Oh happy, happy Father's Day!"

It's plain that Dad can hardly bear it,
But what can he do but grin and wear it?

Long-suffering fathers will be deluged once again this year with shirts that don't fit, ties that don't match, socks that shrink. Their big day is June 15.

Just for a change, why not put a little serious thought into Dad's gift, and give him something he actually can use? Take a little time for detective work, and observe what's missing or wearing out in his wardrobe, what gadgets bring a gleam to his eye when he passes a shop window, what equipment he needs for his favorite sport.

If you buy those old standbys, socks, shirts or ties, for goodness' sake check the following points:

Look at his old ones and get the right size. Also get the same style he buys for himself. In buying shirts, be careful that you have not only neck size but also sleeve length, that you get the kind of collar he prefers and bow to his tastes as to plain or French cuffs. If he's a dyed-in-the-wool conservative don't try to force him into bright red socks or a shocking pink sports shirt.

Safest is an accessory or piece of equipment for his favorite sport or hobby. Here are some suggestions for classified Dads:

Golfer: There's a new Swiss gold watch just out that fastens on the belt, snaps open at a touch and is set on a slant for visibility.

Lounger: Try one of the new belts in fine soft leather, contoured for body fit, that fasten with a snap instead of a buckle and have a small, discreet monogrammed disc. These also can be made in fabric to match his suit or slacks.

Camera fan: Maybe he needs an exposure meter or a new flash attachment. Just cleaning out a corner for a darkroom might be the nicest thing you could do.

Fisherman: This is easy — he always has his eye on a new kind of rod, reel or waders. Just be sure you find out which kind.

Hunter: Ammunition for his pet gun will set him up for the season.

Gardener: How about a new power lawn mower? Or if that isn't within your budget, just replace that hoe with the broken handle.

Traveling man: A small compact leather shoe kit, containing brush, buffer and polish, will fit in his suitcase, keep him well polished.

Homebody: Well, there's always a pipe and slippers.

It sometimes gets so cold in Alberta, Canada, that a man working in the open air avoids running for fear of frosting his lungs by inhaling too heavily.

Coast Guard Stops Ketch Golden Rule

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guardsmen stopped pacifists from sailing the ketch Golden Rule toward the Atomic Energy Commission's test area again Wednesday. — this time on the high seas.

Albert Smith Bigelow, Cos Cob, Conn., the Golden Rule's skipper, was arrested before the ketch sailed on a charge that he conspired to violate a federal court injunction against the sailing.

William Huntington, St. James, Long Island, N.Y., returned to Honolulu, providing a navigator just in time to get the 30-foot vessel under way.

George Willoughby, Blackwood Terrace, N.J., one of the crew, said the ketch was well outside the three-mile territorial limit when the Coast Guard caught up. Huntington was arrested on the return to Honolulu.

A previous attempt to sail was made May 1. That resulted in Judge Jon Wing finding the crew guilty of violating his injunction against the trip. He gave them suspended sentences and put them on probation for a year that time.

Other crewmen are Orion Sherwood, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and James Peck, New York City. Bigelow, Huntington and Willoughby are Quakers. Sherwood is a Methodist. Peck says he is a nonreligious pacifist.

The three U.S. atomic submarines are the Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate. A fourth one, the Spipjack, will be launched before the end of 1958.

Dancer Still Kicking High; Retains Youth at Age 70

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can keep your arteries young by dancing, says 70-year-old Florence Colebrook Powers, who still trips the light fantastic for a living, maintaining a youthful figure and lovely skin.

"I'm not going to say that dancing is the only answer to a youthful appearance," she says, "but it does help keep one young. It burns off excess fat, puts color in your cheeks and a glow in your eyes. Music keeps the mind elevated."

One of the foremost dancers of the twenties, Mrs. Powers studied ballroom dancing at Castle House, established by the famed Vernon and Irene Castle. She studied also with Francis Carter, the Shakespearean interpreter, and with Ruth St. Denis. She studied ballet in Europe.

She was the rage in Rochester, N. Y., in the days when people spent afternoons waltzing and drinking tea.

"There were fewer heart attacks in those days," Mrs. Powers says. "Mature people got out more and learned to relax."

Western New York, known for its conventional living, became a changed area after Mrs. Powers introduced her dances. She recalls:

'Everybody was learning ballroom dances, the waltz, fox trot and tango. Women bobbed their hair and there was a revolution in the mode of dress."

She sees a return now to ballroom dancing, especially for older people who need the outlet. Soft, melodious music is making a comeback for that every reason, she says, and even chiffon, the fabric of the dance floor, is back in fashion again.

Because she has been dancing professionally for almost half-a-century, Mrs. Powers has had to observe all the rules of beauty to keep glamorous. She does the little exercises.

'One of my favorites keeps the middle from sagging like an old divan," she says. "It may be done sitting or standing. Just sit down, stretch high in the air with both arms, lifting the body up from the waist. Or stand against a wall and lift the hands as high as you can. "Learn to hold your head high, too, for a wonderful feeling. It's impossible to be despondent, when you learn to keep your chin up. Stand on your toes frequently to limber up your knees—the ugliest feature of a woman, especially the back knee muscle," she reminds us. "Avoid fat-making foods. Each person may have a different problem I can eat sweets," she explains, "because I burn it off dancing."

Her legs and figure are as lithe and graceful as a young girl's. Her skin is soft and unlined, except for character lines. But it takes time to keep young, she remarks. She uses creams instead of water on her face, and never misses a daily application.

She is a widow. Her mother, Eleanor Maddock, was a well-known writer, and Mrs. Powers has added fiction writing to her repertoire of interests. She is at present engaged in writing a novel about an old house she owns in Fairmont, N. J.

"It will make a wonderful movie," says the indefatigable Mrs. Powers, who believes, 'You've got to keep your brain young and active too."

At present she is associated with Donald Sawyer in a New York dance studio. He has been her dancing partner off and on through the decades, and together they danced at President Roosevelt's inaugural ball. It was with him that she introduced the Brazilian Maxixe, another of the famous Castle dances, to the tea dance set of Rochester.

Our Big Story

THE TIRE SPECIALISTS

We don't sell television, lawn mowers or nails.
We don't sell pianos, shot guns or pails.
We don't sell bicycles, tricycles or toys
We just sell TIRES — that's enough for us boys.

We don't sell refrigerators, davenports or chairs.
We don't sell freezers or make radio repairs.
We don't sell fishin' poles, chicken wire and stuff
We just sell TIRES and we think that's enough.

We don't see how anyone can be so smart,
As to know all the answers to every modern art.
So we don't claim to know so bloomin' much
We just know TIRES, RECAPPING and such.

When you need a doctor, to a doctor you go.
You don't get a plumber to fix a broken toe.
So when your TIRES are ailin' or gettin' kinda' thin,
Call the TIRE SPECIALISTS—
that's the business we're in.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have three children—a daughter 19, and two sons, 18 and 11. My husband and I have been separated five years.

The big problem is my eldest son, who is tall, handsome and powerfully built. He is forever picking on the smaller boy, to such an extent that I daren't leave them alone. He has beaten his sister, when she has tried to interfere. Just recently he broke two of the younger boy's teeth with a blow. He thinks the latter is too bold, and needs to be "chastised," as he calls it.

Paul (I'll call him) is insolent and insulting to us, but puts on his best behavior for outsiders. He seems to get along all right with his friends, and even has a girl friend who thinks he is wonderful.

Maybe his sense of security has been shattered. We've moved three times in the last four years, and my husband revealed recently that he has been living with another woman—one of the reasons that we separated. When here, he was a cruel monster; but I don't think he could equal Paul's brutality. Paul seems to think he should take up where his dad left off.

Incidentally, my husband favors the youngest and never laid a hand on him, compared to his belittling and bullying of the other two. I try to understand that their lives have been upset; and do everything to please Paul. We have a beautiful home and he has nice clothes and a good allowance, that I have to ask his father for—but there is no peace here.

I blame myself. I have always been nervous and impatient with the children. Paul says he is going to join the Army next fall. Do you suppose that would help any?

V.V.

DEAR V.V.: In your letter, here condensed, you mention that Paul had to drop out of a fine church school, because he couldn't make passing grades. Is his poor scholarship due to emotional disturbance, ingrained by his upset family life? Or to a reading disability? Or to a limited IQ? Have you ever made any efforts to check these points?

On the one hand, he has been brutalized and demoralized by his father's ugly bullying abuse of him from his earliest years—a ruinous example of misused physical strength. Thus he has grown up in his father's image—but more so!

And on the other hand, he has been coddled by you in a weakly solicitous way, no doubt—because you weren't psychologically adequate to cope with the bad father. And because you felt guilty about resenting your involvement in parenthood with him, and tried to make it up to the children as best you could, by worrying excessively about their welfare, while doing little to really deliver them from trouble.

Consequently Paul despises you and possibly his sister too, for being another anxious female closely situated with him. And it seems he hates his younger brother, in a sick-minded compulsive way — maybe jealously, because Dad favored him. Or maybe because he unconsciously identifies the younger boy with the old man — and beats the kid, vengefully, because that's how he'd like o shove Pa around. (Except that unconsciously he still fears him).

For advice: you must have first-hand help. Capsuled column comment can indicate the general direction in which to move, but you need day-to-day leadership, in saving the children from moral collapse. Try the Family Service Agency in your community, for psychiatric guidance in healing your family's emotional sickness.

Don't discourage Paul from joining the Army, nor even from making it his life work. It might do much to solve his quarrel with life—by putting him in the cooler of an impersonal atmosphere, subject to manly disciplines and duty assignments, none of which he gets at home.

Indiana GI Body Found Along Road

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — The bullet-riddled body of John W. Moore, a 20-year-old Indiana airman stationed at Loring Air Force Base in Maine, was found alongside a Portage County road near here Wednesday.

The coroner said there were two bullet holes in the victim's head and that he had died some 18 hours before the body was discovered.

Moore was identified as being from Terre Haute, but a check there showed his parents had moved Wednesday to Plymouth, Ind. They were not immediately located.

Officers sought to find out if Moore had been driving an automobile. They theorized the tall, slender airman may have been shot and robbed by a hitchhiker who then fled in Moore's car. He had been on furlough.

One bullet was fired through the back of Moore's head and another through the top of the head.

Serial numbers on the uniform led to identification. The slayer had stripped his victim's wallet and pockets of any identifying clues, even ripping a cover from a pack of book matches which may have tipped off the area from where the matches were picked up.

Dr. John R. Turner, county coroner, said the body had no bruises or cuts to indicate a struggle before the shooting. Some fatigue clothes belonging to Moore were piled alongside his body. They were blood-stained and were being tested to determine if the blood came from the victim.

One deputy said Moore apparently was killed some place else and his body tossed from the automobile at the spot where it was found on a road east of here.

Stoneware was first made in Ohio in 1814 at Zanesville.

Cleveland Union OKs New 2-Year Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — Terms close to those rejected by the union in auto industry bargaining at Detroit have been agreed upon by Thompson Products, Inc. and the Aircraft Workers Alliance, an independent union.

A two-year settlement provides for wage increase of six to nine cents hourly as of last Sunday and six to nine cents next June 1. Additionally, 16 cents of a previously accumulated 17-cent cost-of-living allowance became part of basic hourly wage rates and two cents are added to cost-of-living allowance.

New Women's Reformatory Chieftain Doesn't Label Inmates as Outcasts

By JOHN PASCAL

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"No, I don't know all their names yet," says the new head of the Ohio Reformatory for Women of her 355 wards. But if you can somehow manage to keep up with her as she makes her daily rounds, you might find yourself wondering.

Along the gleaming corridors, in the recreation halls, in each small, tidy room, it's "hi, Ethel," or "hello, Mary, how's the sewing coming along?" Or maybe a smile or a quick, friendly wave of the hand. And whether she calls them by name or not, the girls respond warm "afternoon ma'am," or 'just fine, Miss Wheeler."

For energetic, 37-year-old Martha Wheeler, now rounding out two months as superintendent of the sprawling 258-acre women's reformatory, it's just one more way of letting the inmates know she thinks of them as troubled human beings, not as society's outcasts.

A bachelor's degree in social administration, and later a law degree from Ohio State University, plus a decade and a half of work at womens' reformatories in the east, have helped shape Miss Wheeler's thinking along the lines of most modern penologists.

'We can't operate our institutions on a purely custodial basis," she says. "We can't lock a person up for two or three years or longer with nothing more than punishment as our goal. We have to train them and prepare them for their return to normal social life as useful, productive citizens."

In the public's mind, the inmate of a reformatory or prison still presents the image of an evil person, "a person who has deliberately chosen crime as his or her way of life," says Miss Wheeler.

"I don't think anything can be farther from the truth. The great majority of inmates, both men and women, are people who for most of their lives have had a pretty rough go of it and who somehow, on some occasion, find themselves backed into a corner. Their only instinct is to lash out. They see no other course. Inevitably, they get in trouble.

"Well, it's our job to make the girls understand they didn't have to do it their way; that there was an alternate course open to them that is acceptable to society. We have to find out why they did wrong, and then make them see why, so that they can avoid the same mistake in the future."

The Marysville reformatory and similar institutions are doing the best they can, says Miss Wheeler, but here, as elsewhere, she adds, a big problem is financing.

The reformatory has a staff of 84, including 35 or so matrons, hired farm help, plumbers, carpenters, custodial engineers, nurses, a part-time doctor and a part-time dentist.

"But we need at least one psychologist," says Miss Wheeler, "and a social case worker, and at least one trained teacher and someone trained in recreational supervision. We'd like someone to take over our music program and our library. We'd like a diagnostic center, more people to conduct group conferences, more counselors. They are needed not only here but in most institutions if the institutions hope to solve human problems. We have a double obligation to help these inmates. We owe it to the community and we owe it to the girls themselves."

Miss Wheleer took over as head officer of the reformatory April 1, succeeding Mrs. Marguerite Reilly, who retired after 21 years in the post.

What drew her into a career of penology?

"I more or less grew up with it," she relates. "When I was eight my parents took over the operation of The Madison Home, an institution in Madison, Ohio, for elderly wives, widows and mothers of war veterans. I lived with them and came to understand them as human beings with very human problems."

Following her graduation from law school, Miss Wheeler worked at the New Jersey State Reformatory for Women at Clinton, N. J., and then spent eight years in a variety of administrative posts at the New York State Reformatory and Prison for Women at Bedford Hills, N. Y. She was serving as guidance supervisor there when her appointment to the Ohio reformatory was announced March 15.

Miss Wheeler admits she's still feeling her way along in her new job, but staff members and inmates alike, by their openness with her and by the extra little courtesies they extend her, indicate they like and admire her. They respect her for the solid, formidable workmanship she brings to her job, but they like her for the human touch, the occasional gesture or understanding.

An example?

After a day that starts at 6:15 a. m. and includes seven and a half hours on the job, either in the fields, or in the laundry, or the kitchen, it's back to their rooms for all inmates at 8 p. m. Except Saturday. On Saturday nights, Miss Wheeler lets them stay up until 8:30.

"They're crazy," she says, "about the Perry Mason show."

Sub's Power Failure Blamed for Accident

HONOLULU (AP) — The executive officer of the submarine Stickleback says its own power failure on a dive was responsible for its being rammed and sunk by the destroyer Silverstein.

Lt. Robert W. Dickieson told a naval court of inquiry Wednesday that after the power failure, the submarine's crew barely was able to halt its plunge by hand-operating its diving planes. When the vessel rose, it was rammed. That was last Thursday.

Beef, in one form or another, gets the feature treatment in advertisements of many supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Chuck roast and rib roasts are the most frequently mentioned beef specials, although round steak, round roast, beef liver, beef tongue and even stew meat also get into the act.

Prices are not what most housewives would call the greatest bargain of the century.

Nor do the specials mean, in most cases, that the beef market is easing to any great extent. Supermarket meat specialists say it's largely a case of being tired of advertising everything but beef for a long while.

Lamb and pork also are being pushed by some stores this week, although leg of lamb is 4 to 10 cents a pound higher in places.

Supplies of lettuce are plentiful as nearby crops augment heads shipped from Western growing areas. Asparagus also is an outstanding buy, although supplies are tapering off. Spinach, radishes and onions from nearby fields, rhubarb, cooking greens and southern cabbage and squash also are very good buys.

In the same category are snap beans, broccoli, onions from Texas and potatoes. Endive and escarole are reported somewhat higher this week.

Bananas and pineapples still rank as the best bets among fruits, bct there's a promise of better bargains ahead from the first peaches of the season.

Officers Curtail Campus Hijinks

KENT (AP) — Five hundred male students, exploding fire-crackers and ringing gongs, marched on two women's dormitories at Kent State University early today.

Aside from working off term-ending tensions, they got no farther than lines of highway patrolmen, policemen, firemen and sheriff's deputies who guarded entrances to the women's dorms.

Authorities said they had been warned in advance of the hijinks on the eve of the last day of the school year.

Ohio Woman To Win $140,000 in 'Sweeps'

GENEVA (AP)—In April, a friend of her husband poked his head in the kitchen of Les Miller's Lounge Bar here and asked Mrs. Miller whether she wanted to buy an Irish Sweepstakes ticket.

"I said: 'Sure, why not? I'm part Irish—maybe I'll win,'" Mrs. Miller recalled.

Wednesday Mrs. Miller learned the $4 ticket won $140,000 for her in the English Derby at Dublin, and after taxes she will have a net of about $84,240.

New Women's Reformatory Chieftain Doesn't Label Inmates as Outcasts

By JOHN PASCAL

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"No, I don't know all their names yet," says the new head of the Ohio Reformatory for Women of her 355 wards. But if you can somehow manage to keep up with her as she makes her daily rounds, you might find yourself wondering.

Along the gleaming corridors, in the recreation halls, in each small, tidy room, it's "hi, Ethel," or "hello, Mary, how's the sewing coming along?" Or maybe a smile or a quick, friendly wave of the hand. And whether she calls them by name or not, the girls respond warm "afternoon ma'am," or 'just fine, Miss Wheeler."

For energetic, 37-year-old Martha Wheeler, now rounding out two months as superintendent of the sprawling 258-acre women's reformatory, it's just one more way of letting the inmates know she thinks of them as troubled human beings, not as society's outcasts.

Chuck roast and rib roasts are the most frequently mentioned beef specials, although round steak, round roast, beef liver, beef tongue and even stew meat also get into the act.

Prices are not what most housewives would call the greatest bargain of the century.

Nor do the specials mean, in most cases, that the beef market is easing to any great extent. Supermarket meat specialists say it's largely a case of being tired of advertising everything but beef for a long while.

Lamb and pork also are being pushed by some stores this week, although leg of lamb is 4 to 10 cents a pound higher in places.

Supplies of lettuce are plentiful as nearby crops augment heads shipped from Western growing areas. Asparagus also is an outstanding buy, although supplies are tapering off. Spinach, radishes and onions from nearby fields, rhubarb, cooking greens and southern cabbage and squash also are very good buys.

In the same category are snap beans, broccoli, onions from Texas and potatoes. Endive and escarole are reported somewhat higher this week.

Bananas and pineapples still rank as the best bets among fruits, bet there's a promise of better bargains ahead from the first peaches of the season.

Officers Curtail Campus Hijinks

KENT (AP) — Five hundred male students, exploding fire-crackers and ringing gongs, marched on two women's dormitories at Kent State University early today.

Aside from working off tension, they got no farther than lines of highway patrolmen, policemen, firemen and sheriff's deputies who guarded entrances to the women's dorms.

Authorities said they had been warned in advance of the hijinks on the eve of the last day of the school year.

Ohio Woman To Win $140,000 in 'Sweeps'

GENEVA (AP)—In April, a friend of her husband poked his head in the kitchen of Les Miller's Lounge Bar here and asked Mrs. Miller whether she wanted to buy an Irish Sweepstakes ticket.

"I said: 'Sure, why not? I'm part Irish—maybe I'll win,'" Mrs. Miller recalled.

Wednesday Mrs. Miller learned the $4 ticket won $140,000 for her in the English Derby at Dublin, and after taxes she will have a net of about $84,240.

Things Looking Brighter for Dodger Outfit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things haven't looked this good for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a long, long time. They've gained voter approval for the Chavez Ravine deal, Johnny Podres was junked his four-game slump with a three-hit shutout AND those crowd - collecting Milwaukee Braves are coming to town.

The Dodgers are still in the cellar, but it's only a 4½-game spread to third place after Wednesday night's 3-0 job on Cincinnati. It was the first shutout of the year for Podres, who led the majors with six last season.

The Braves, again drawing a near-capacity crowd, moved into a one-game lead over second-place San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and gained a virtual tie for fourth place with Chicago. The Cubs bombed Philadelphia again 11-5 with Ernie Banks belting his 15th and 16th homers, high in the majors.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 7-2. Second-place Kansas City beat Washington 5-4. Cleveland defeated Boston 7-5 in 10 and Baltimore clipped Detroit 6-4.

Charley Neal drove in two Dodger runs with a 420-foot triple to center and a solo homer that cleared the nearby left field screen at the foul pole. Podres, now 5-4, breezed, twice retiring 11 in a row and no-hitting the Redlegs over the last 4 1-3 innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

Johnny Klippstein (2-2) lost it.

A pinch-hit single by pitcher Warren Spahn clinched it for the Braves off losing reliever Stu Miller (1-3). Down 7-1 after three, they tied it 7-all in the ninth as Wes Covington belted a three-run homer on the first pitch from reliever Pete Burnside — who was sold to Phoenix a few hours later. The two clubs swapped two-run spurts in the 10th. The Giants got theirs after two were out on consecutive pinch homers by Hank Sauer and Bob Schmidt off winning reliever Ernie Johnson (2-0).

Stan Musial hit his 10th homer and Ken Boyer rapped a two-run, inside-the-park homer for the Cards against Ron Kline (6-5). Jim Brosnan (6-4) won his third straight, with relief help, since coming to the Cards from the Cubs May 20. He gave seven hits, three by Frank Thomas, who hit his 14th home run.

Both of Banks' home runs came with a man on for the Cubs, his second an inside-the-park belt as the Phils' Richie Ashburn crashed into the center field wall. Moe Drabowsky won his third with a 10-hitter, including two-run homers by Solly Hemus and Rip Repulski, while Robin Roberts lost his sixth in 11 decisions.

What more can happen to the Detroit Tigers? Now they may have lost Harvey Kuenn, ther leading hitter, for a spell and they've plunked back into the American League cellar.

Kuenn's injury and the dip to eighth place came in the same onetime all-star shortstop who has switched successfully to center field this season suffered severe gashes near his right eye when he crashed into the wire fence in Baltimore on a futile try for a two-run homer by Gus Triandos that gave the Orioles a 6-4 victory.

Kuenn, 27, leading the injury-hobbled Tigers with a 341 batting average, underwent plastic surgery. His eye appeared to escape injury, but a doctor declined to say whether he would be able to play tonight.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, ended their scoreless nonsense and beat the New York Yankees 7-2. Second-place Kansas City, 7½ games behind the Yankees, defeated Washington 5-4, and Cleveland beat Boston 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee gained a one-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 3-0 on Johnny Podres' three-hitter. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs walloped Philadelphia 11-5, with Ernie Banks hitting his 15th and 16th home runs, tops in the majors.

Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched a five-hitter against the Yankees and fanned six to wrest the strikeout lead from New York's Bob Turley, 55 to 53. Pierce also doubled in a two-run third against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-3) that ended a string of 32 scoreless innings for the White Sox, who had not had a hit in the last nine.

Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle homered, the seventh for each, for the Yankees, while Don Mueller's two-run pinch single cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Mike Baxes had four singles in four trips and drove in the last two runs for the Ajs at Washington. Jack Urban won his fifth, with relief help, while winless Al Cicotte lost his third.

The Indians ended their losing string at four, overhauling a 3-0 Boston lead and then counting four in the 10th on Billy Harrell's two-run homer, three singles, a wild pitch and an error. Hoyt Wilhelm won his second in relief, although giving up a two-run homer to Dick Gernert in the 10th. Dave Sisler (4-2) lost it in relief.

River Squad Hands Defeat To Merchants

River Oil continued its mastery over the Circleville Independent Softball League with a 52 victory last night at the hands of Circleville Merchants in Ted Lewis Park.

Oil scored three runs in the second inning and two in the third for a 5-0 lead. Merchants tallied its two runs in the top half of the sixth inning. River Oil had six hits, just one more than the Merchants. Sandy Hill hurled for Circleville facing River Oil's Franham.

Circleville's Bumgardner and Gillis were the big hitters for the evening with two hits each. Kraft got the other Merchant hit. Gillis cantributed a triple to the Merchant cause and Minser smacked a double for Chillicothe. Oil committed one error and Circleville two.

CLUB SHOTS

Young Bill Dickinson birdied No. 3 the other day. That's fine golf for a neophyte linkster.

Virgie Van Camp returned to the ranks of the golfers after a siege in the hospital. Welcome home.

A life's ambition was accomplished at the Pickaway Country Club May 24. Emory Ridlon broke 50.

Betty Plummer fired a sizzling 54 last week. Tough shooting for a golfer in her second year.

Veteran golfer Dr. Walter Heine came up with a snazzy 40 the other day.

Winner of the club's Stewart trophy this year was George Fuhrman, who blazed for 18 holes with a 37-33-70. His two handicap gave him a 68 for top honors.

Memorial Day notes: Garold Crites' best-ever 43; Patsy Blake's birdie on No. 7.

Bill Heiskell and Bonner Ezell just missed holes-in-one, Bill on No. 2 and Bonner on No. 8.

"Potato" Dean Bushee progressing nicely with his golf game.

Last Ladies' Day was a dandy. Winners of the hidden partners tourney were Edna Timmons and Sue Spires. Vi Ridlon and Mary Carpenter were second. Edith Gordon had low putts and Dotty Smith was second low on putts.

On Memorial Day Ruth Athey came through with low gross to take top honors. Low net golfer was Patsy Blake and Peg Mason was second low net. Hot putters Edith Gordon and Dotty Smith placed one-two in low putts.

New tee-off time for Ladies Day activities is 9:30 a.m. Thursdays.

SPORTS

Trotters and Pacers

Circleville harness racers didn't fare too well last night at the Lebanon Raceway as five horses placed third and one came in last.

W. Dean, owned by P. F. Markley and driven by Porter Martin, came down the back stretch in second place only to be nosed out at the wire by Scotonia and had to settle for show. The winning time in this D trot was 2:12. Winner was Jerry Lambert.

Jimmy Mace drove Worthy One, owned by Frank L. Bowling, in the fourth race, a 26-28 Trot, to a third-place finish. El Dora Hazel, who was in fifth post position, broke from the starting gate into first place and remained there till the finish. Mace was edged out at the finish line by Follow Jimmy. The time of the race was 2:11.

Mace entered the fifth race behind the favorite, Choice H. It was a C Pace and Choice H had won twice at Lebanon before last night's meet. Choice H was in the seventh post position at the start, but moved into third as the race started. Mace held her third until the half-mile pole and then pulled out to challenge for the lead. Choice H was "nip and tuck" for first down the back stretch but tired near the finish line and came in a strong third. The winning time was 2:07, the best of the evening. The winner was Coppermite.

FRANK MACE drove Kelly McWin, owned by Arthur and Harley Mace, in the A & B Pace - PP Handicap, the featured race of the evening. Kelly McWin got off to a bad start and could never regain a better position than with which it started. The winning time was 2:08. Winner was Dr. Turney.

Porter Martin drove Castle Prince to a third-place finish in the 22-23 Trot Cond. Castle Prince, owned by C. E. Myers, took over second place in the race and held there until the wire where United Nations edged her out by a neck. Winning time was 2:09.1.

Martin drove Pilot Zoom to third place in the final race of the evening, a 28 Pace. Pilot Zoom is owned by Martin and son. Winner was Diploma.

Circleville had good representation at the Lebanon track last night as more than 25 persons were on hand to witness the proceedings. People attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowling, sons George and Frank Jr. and his wife, and daughter Dotty. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mace were there with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michael. Mr. and Mrs. George Fissell drove down with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shellhamer. Wayne Martin was on hand to watch brother, Porter.

Lowell Rader drove down with Mat Copeland and Marvin Spangler. Harry Cupp was seen walking through the crowd. Norm Anderson, Ed "Yock" Strawser (cracked collarbone and all) and Freck Heath were found scanning the tout form. Charles Glitt was down placing bets for his many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helvering enjoyed the races from the large grandstand to be found at Lebanon. Leroy Denney was seen near the fence. Mr. and Mrs. James I. Smith and guest, Thomas Scully, rode down with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Fissell.

The Lebanon Raceway closes Saturday night and the same group will move to Hamilton for 40 nights of racing. Of more interest to Circleville fans is the fact that Hilliards Raceway, just 40 miles from here, will open Tuesday and Pickaway County owned and trained horses will be racing almost every night.

A final note, Ralph Strous drove Air Chimes to a second place finish Tuesday night at Lebanon. The race was a D Trot and the winning time was 2:10.4.

Ohio Open Booked For Aug. 18-20

DAYTON (AP) — The 72-hole Ohio Open golf championship will be played Aug. 18-19-20 over the par 71 Madden Park golf course here, the Ohio Professional Golfers' Assn. reports.

The southern section of the Ohio PGA is in charge of the tournament this year and the host pro will be Tom Blackburn, University of Dayton basketball coach. The PGA said the championship field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after 36 holes of play.

Dodgers Hand Shutout to Redleg Crew

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There were two things the Los Angeles Dodgers had today that they didn't have Wednesday — (1) Chavez Ravine, or a portion thereof, and (2) their first victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs—a three-hit 3-0 shutout.

At the moment at least, perhaps point No. 2 loomed more definite and sweet: certainly, there was a feeling that with more of the likes of Johnny Podres' virtually airtight hurling, the Dodgers might eventually rise from the cellar.

Only Redleg hits of the night were singles by Johnny Temple, to open the game; by Don Hoak to open the second inning, and by Roy McMillan with two out in the fifth. Two more visitors walked and thus did Podres rack up the first shutout in 24 games in the Coliseum, and his fifth win against four defeats.

Until McMillan bounced his hard single over third in the fifth, Podres retired 11 men in order. John Klippstein, in turn, found his season's record evened up at 2-2.

Klip lasted 2 2-3 innings — long enough to feed a booming triple to Carl Furillo to open the second, then with two down, another three-bagger to Charley Neal to score Furillo. Don Zimmer singled sharply through the middle to put his mates two-up.

Turk Lown succeeded Klip to the mound — and in the fourth watched as Neal lofted a homer over the left field screen just inside the foul pole. Tom Acker hurled the next three innings, getting two Dodgers on strikes and holding them hitless.

Charley Rabe came on in the eighth and Willard Schmidt relieved Rabe.

Lawsuits Still Pestering Dodgers in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter O'Malley is still erect after the latest effort to yank the Southern California welcome mat from under his Dodgers. But his equilibrium may be submitted to still further tests.

City voters decided in a referendum election Tuesday to let O'Malley build a luxurious new stadium for his ball club in Chavez Ravine, a mile from the heart of downtown.

Latest returns today show 176,605 votes for and 159,028 against. This is with 2,350 precincts of 4,519 reported. The trend is not expected to change.

The results mean O'Malley may get his athletes out of their makeshift playground at Memorial Coliseum sometime during the 1959 season—if.

If the chubby baseball impresario from Brooklyn can vault a few more hurdles.

There are several lawsuits on file now. They all challenge the legality of the deal permitting the Dodgers to set up shop in Chavez Ravine.

One of the suits was filed in nearby Pasadena on behalf of taxpayer Louis Kirschbaum. He already has obtained a temporary court order restraining the city from transferring its Chavez Ravine acreage to the ball club. Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell now must grant or refuse an application for a temporary injunction.

Kirschbaum claims the land cannot be conveyed to the Dodgers because there was a deed restriction on it when it was acquired from the City Housing Authority. The restriction provided that the land be used only for public purposes.

City Atty. Roger Arnebaugh was asked to comment on the gravity of the situation.

"It is our considered judgment," he said, "that the contract is legal in all its aspects. But these lawsuits may well cause some delay in the ultimate completion of the projeet.

"The contract (with the Dodgers) says that in the event we are unable to get the restriction removed or modified the contract will be of no further force or effect. We recognized that the deed restriction would have to be modified. Steps will now be taken to get it modified. It's a matter of working it out with the Housing Authority. They have already indicated they are sympathetic to the proposal that the Dodgers play there, in that it is a quasipublic purpose in itself—for the benefit of all the public."

Circleville Driver Reins 2 Winners

LEBANON (AP) — Jimmy Liso of Circleville had a big night as a driver in the 22nd trot session at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night. He handled two high-paying winners — one representing the first leg of the season's record daily double.

Liso piloted Worthy Venture to victory over the mile course in 2:11.2 in the first. The roan gelding paid her backers $53.80, $15.40 and $9.00. To those who favored Jerry Lambert in the second race, it was worth $11.80, $7.80 and $4.60. Worthy Venture and Jerry Lambert together paid $300.40, against a previous daily double high of $292.

Liso also won the eighth race, a 28 pace, behind Diploma, in 2:09, to pay backers $39.40, $11.80 and $6.20.

Dolph Regelsky, University of North Dakota freshman baseball coach, played in the infield for the Nashville team of the Double-A Southern Assn.

Tribe Ends Losing String; Bosox Bow

BOSTON (AP)—The famine is over and maybe a feast will start.

Anyway that's what the Cleveland Indians hoped today as they met the Boston Red Sox in the finale of a three-game set. The Tribe ended its four-game losing streak with a four-run burst in the 10th inning Wednesday, providing a 7-5 triumph.

Billy Harrell, who hit a two-run homer in the 10th, and Hoyt Wilhelm, the knuckleball relief artist, were the heroes for Cleveland.

Wilhelm, who came into the game in the sixth inning, pitched hitless ball until Ted Williams beat out an infield single in the 10th. Dick Hernert then smashed a home run above the left field wall, cutting Cleveland's apparently safe 7-3 margin by two runs.

Trailing 3-0 after five innings and headed for a fifth straight loss, the Indians nicked Boston's Frank Sullivan for a single run in the sixth frame.

Back-to-back doubles by Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon scored one more in the seventh. When Rocky Colavito ripped a single to center, Vernon crossed to make the score 3-3.

The Red Sox had roughed up starter Ray Narleski, scoring three runs in four innings. A walk to Jimmy Piersall with the bases loaded brought in the first tally in the second. Frank Malzone's singles and Jackie Jensen's 10th homer added two more in the fourth inning.

The Indians launched their four-run spree in the 10th when Wilhelm, usually a weak hitter, singled to right field. After Chico Carrasquel popped out, shortstop Harrell belted his homer, his fifth of the season.

Dick Brown, Bobby Avila and Roger Maris followed with singles —all off loser Dick Sisler. Brown scored on Maris' single and Avila raced home when catcher Berberet muffed a throw.

Sarazen Says Youth To Win U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Ageless Gene Sarazen likes a three-way youth parlay in the National Open Golf Tournament next week — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi and Billy Casper.

"I'd have to pick them 1-2-3 and let you choose the order," the 56-year-old golfing squire said today, taking a brief respite from his upstate cattle farm. "If I had to choose a fourth man it would be Jimmy Demaret.

"But I can't see it as a year for the Old Guard—Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or Demaret. They're nearing 50 and that means their knees are beginning to buckle."

Senior Golfers Aim at Dawson

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—A second group close to 200 NL ski veterans open a 36-hole attack at the Apawamis Club today in an effort to keep Johnny Dawson of Palm Desert, Calif., from winning the U. S. Seniors' golf championship on his initial try.

The long-time amateur star, who only recently turned 55 and became eligible for the championship, finished his 36-hole competition with a one-under par 70-73—143.

In the 54-year history of the tournament this score has been bettered only twice.

Things Looking Brighter for Dodger Outfit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things haven't looked this good for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a long, long time. They've gained voter approval for the Chavez Ravine deal, Johnny Podres was junked his four-game slump with a three-hit shutout AND those crowd - collecting Milwaukee Braves are coming to town.

The Dodgers are still in the cellar, but it's only a 4½-game spread to third place after Wednesday night's 3-0 job on Cincinnati. It was the first shutout of the year for Podres, who led the majors with six last season.

The Braves, again drawing a near-capacity crowd, moved into a one-game lead over second-place San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and gained a virtual tie for fourth place with Chicago. The Cubs bombed Philadelphia again 11-5 with Ernie Banks belting his 15th and 16th homers, high in the majors.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 7-2. Second-place Kansas City beat Washington 5-4. Cleveland defeated Boston 7-5 in 10 and Baltimore clipped Detroit 6-4.

Charley Neal drove in two Dodger runs with a 420-foot triple to center and a solo homer that cleared the nearby left field screen at the foul pole. Podres, now 5-4, breezed, twice retiring 11 in a row and no-hitting the Redlegs over the last 4 1-3 innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

Johnny Klippstein (2-2) lost it.

A pinch-hit single by pitcher Warren Spahn clinched it for the Braves off losing reliever Stu Miller (1-3). Down 7-1 after three, they tied it 7-all in the ninth as Wes Covington belted a three-run homer on the first pitch from reliever Pete Burnside — who was sold to Phoenix a few hours later. The two clubs swapped two-run spurts in the 10th. The Giants got theirs after two were out on consecutive pinch homers by Hank Sauer and Bob Schmidt off winning reliever Ernie Johnson (2-0).

Stan Musial hit his 10th homer and Ken Boyer rapped a two-run, inside-the-park homer for the Cards against Ron Kline (6-5). Jim Brosnan (6-4) won his third straight, with relief help, since coming to the Cards from the Cubs May 20. He gave seven hits, three by Frank Thomas, who hit his 14th home run.

Both of Banks' home runs came with a man on for the Cubs, his second an inside-the-park belt as the Phils' Richie Ashburn crashed into the center field wall. Moe Drabowsky won his third with a 10-hitter, including two-run homers by Solly Hemus and Rip Repulski, while Robin Roberts lost his sixth in 11 decisions.

What more can happen to the Detroit Tigers? Now they may have lost Harvey Kuenn, ther leading hitter, for a spell and they've plunked back into the American League cellar.

Kuenn's injury and the dip to eighth place came in the same onetime all-star shortstop who has switched successfully to center field this season suffered severe gashes near his right eye when he crashed into the wire fence in Baltimore on a futile try for a two-run homer by Gus Triandos that gave the Orioles a 6-4 victory.

Kuenn, 27, leading the injury-hobbled Tigers with a 341 batting average, underwent plastic surgery. His eye appeared to escape injury, but a doctor declined to say whether he would be able to play tonight.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, ended their scoreless nonsense and beat the New York Yankees 7-2. Second-place Kansas City, 7½ games behind the Yankees, defeated Washington 5-4, and Cleveland beat Boston 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee gained a one-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 3-0 on Johnny Podres' three-hitter. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs walloped Philadelphia 11-5, with Ernie Banks hitting his 15th and 16th home runs, tops in the majors.

Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched a five-hitter against the Yankees and fanned six to wrest the strike-out lead from New York's Bob Turley, 55 to 53. Pierce also doubled in a two-run third against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-3) that ended a string of 32 scoreless innings for the White Sox, who had not had a hit in the last nine.

Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle homered, the seventh for each, for the Yankees, while Don Mueller's two-run pinch single cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Mike Baxes had four singles in four trips and drove in the last two runs for the Ajs at Washington. Jack Urban won his fifth, with relief help, while winless Al Cicotte lost his third.

The Indians ended their losing string at four, overhauling a 3-0 Boston lead and then counting four in the 10th on Billy Harrell's two-run homer, three singles, a wild pitch and an error. Hoyt Wilhelm won his second in relief, although giving up a two-run homer to Dick Gernert in the 10th. Dave Sisler (4-2) lost it in relief.

River Squad Hands Defeat To Merchants

River Oil continued its mastery over the Circleville Independent Softball League with a 52 victory last night at the hands of Circleville Merchants in Ted Lewis Park.

Oil scored three runs in the second inning and two in the third for a 5-0 lead. Merchants tallied its two runs in the top half of the sixth inning. River Oil had six hits, just one more than the Merchants. Sandy Hill hurled for Circleville facing River Oil's Franham.

Circleville's Bumgardner and Gillis were the big hitters for the evening with two hits each. Kraft got the other Merchant hit. Gillis cantributed a triple to the Merchant cause and Minser smacked a double for Chillicothe. Oil committed one error and Circleville two.

CLUB SHOTS

Young Bill Dickinson birdied No. 3 the other day. That's fine golf for a neophyte linkster.

Virgie Van Camp returned to the ranks of the golfers after a siege in the hospital. Welcome home.

A life's ambition was accomplished at the Pickaway Country Club May 24. Emory Ridlon broke 50.

Betty Plummer fired a sizzling 54 last week. Tough shooting for a golfer in her second year.

Veteran golfer Dr. Walter Heine came up with a snazzy 40 the other day.

Winner of the club's Stewart trophy this year was George Fuhrman, who blazed for 18 holes with a 37-33-70. His two handicap gave him a 68 for top honors.

Memorial Day notes: Garold Crites' best-ever 43; Patsy Blake's birdie on No. 7.

Bill Heiskell and Bonner Ezell just missed holes-in-one, Bill on No. 2 and Bonner on No. 8.

"Potato" Dean Bushee progressing nicely with his golf game.

Last Ladies' Day was a dandy. Winners of the hidden partners tourney were Edna Timmons and Sue Spires. Vi Ridlon and Mary Carpenter were second. Edith Gordon had low putts and Dotty Smith was second low on putts.

On Memorial Day Ruth Athey came through with low gross to take top honors. Low net golfer was Patsy Blake and Peg Mason was second low net. Hot putters Edith Gordon and Dotty Smith placed one-two in low putts.

SPORTS

Trotters and Pacers

Circleville harness racers didn't fare too well last night at the Lebanon Raceway as five horses placed third and one came in last.

W. Dean, owned by P. F. Markley and driven by Porter Martin, came down the back stretch in second place only to be nosed out at the wire by Scotonia and had to settle for show. The winning time in this D trot was 2:12. Winner was Jerry Lambert.

Jimmy Mace drove Worthy One, owned by Frank L. Bowling, in the fourth race, a 26-28 Trot, to a third-place finish. El Dora Hazel, who was in fifth post position, broke from the starting gate into first place and remained there till the finish. Mace was edged out at the finish line by Follow Jimmy. The time of the race was 2:11.

Mace entered the fifth race behind the favorite, Choice H. It was a C Pace and Choice H had won twice at Lebanon before last night's meet. Choice H was in the seventh post position at the start, but moved into third as the race started. Mace held her third until the half-mile pole and then pulled out to challenge for the lead. Choice H was "nip and tuck" for first down the back stretch but tired near the finish line and came in a strong third. The winning time was 2:07, the best of the evening. The winner was Coppermite.

FRANK MACE drove Kelly McWin, owned by Arthur and Harley Mace, in the A & B Pace - PP Handicap, the featured race of the evening. Kelly McWin got off to a bad start and could never regain a better position than with which it started. The winning time was 2:08. Winner was Dr. Turney.

Porter Martin drove Castle Prince to a third-place finish in the 22-23 Trot Cond. Castle Prince, owned by C. E. Myers, took over second place in the race and held there until the wire where United Nations edged her out by a neck. Winning time was 2:09.1.

Martin drove Pilot Zoom to third place in the final race of the evening, a 28 Pace. Pilot Zoom is owned by Martin and son. Winner was Diploma.

Circleville had good representation at the Lebanon track last night as more than 25 persons were on hand to witness the proceedings. People attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowling, sons George and Frank Jr. and his wife, and daughter Dotty. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mace were there with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michael. Mr. and Mrs. George Fissell drove down with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shellhamer. Wayne Martin was on hand to watch brother, Porter.

Lowell Rader drove down with Mat Copeland and Marvin Spangler. Harry Cupp was seen walking through the crowd. Norm Anderson, Ed "Yock" Strawser (cracked collarbone and all) and Freck Heath were found scanning the tout form. Charles Glitt was down placing bets for his many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helvering enjoyed the races from the large grandstand to be found at Lebanon. Leroy Denney was seen near the fence. Mr. and Mrs. James I. Smith and guest, Thomas Scully, rode down with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Fissell.

The Lebanon Raceway closes Saturday night and the same group will move to Hamilton for 40 nights of racing. Of more interest to Circleville fans is the fact that Hilliards Raceway, just 40 miles from here, will open Tuesday and Pickaway County owned and trained horses will be racing almost every night.

A final note, Ralph Strous drove Air Chimes to a second place finish Tuesday night at Lebanon. The race was a D Trot and the winning time was 2:10.4.

Ohio Open Booked For Aug. 18-20

DAYTON (AP) — The 72-hole Ohio Open golf championship will be played Aug. 18-19-20 over the par 71 Madden Park golf course here, the Ohio Professional Golfers' Assn. reports.

The southern section of the Ohio PGA is in charge of the tournament this year and the host pro will be Tom Blackburn, University of Dayton basketball coach. The PGA said the championship field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after 36 holes of play.

Dodgers Hand Shutout to Redleg Crew

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There were two things the Los Angeles Dodgers had today that they didn't have Wednesday — (1) Chavez Ravine, or a portion thereof, and (2) their first victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs—a three-hit 3-0 shutout.

At the moment at least, perhaps point No. 2 loomed more definite and sweet: certainly, there was a feeling that with more of the likes of Johnny Podres' virtually airtight hurling, the Dodgers might eventually rise from the cellar.

Only Redleg hits of the night were singles by Johnny Temple, to open the game; by Don Hoak to open the second inning, and by Roy McMillan with two out in the fifth. Two more visitors walked and thus did Podres rack up the first shutout in 24 games in the Coliseum, and his fifth win against four defeats.

Until McMillan bounced his hard single over third in the fifth, Podres retired 11 men in order. John Klippstein, in turn, found his season's record evened up at 2-2.

Klip lasted 2 2-3 innings — long enough to feed a booming triple to Carl Furillo to open the second, then with two down, another three-bagger to Charley Neal to score Furillo. Don Zimmer singled sharply through the middle to put his mates two-up.

Turk Lown succeeded Klip to the mound — and in the fourth watched as Neal lofted a homer over the left field screen just inside the foul pole. Tom Acker hurled the next three innings, getting two Dodgers on strikes and holding them hitless.

Charley Rabe came on in the eighth and Willard Schmidt relieved Rabe.

Lawsuits Still Pestering Dodgers in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter O'Malley is still erect after the latest effort to yank the Southern California welcome mat from under his Dodgers. But his equilibrium may be submitted to still further tests.

City voters decided in a referendum election Tuesday to let O'Malley build a luxurious new stadium for his ball club in Chavez Ravine, a mile from the heart of downtown.

Latest returns today show 176,605 votes for and 159,028 against. This is with 2,350 precincts of 4,519 reported. The trend is not expected to change.

The results mean O'Malley may get his athletes out of their makeshift playground at Memorial Coliseum sometime during the 1959 season—if.

If the chubby baseball impresario from Brooklyn can vault a few more hurdles.

There are several lawsuits on file now. They all challenge the legality of the deal permitting the Dodgers to set up shop in Chavez Ravine.

One of the suits was filed in nearby Pasadena on behalf of taxpayer Louis Kirschbaum. He already has obtained a temporary court order restraining the city from transferring its Chavez Ravine acreage to the ball club. Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell now must grant or refuse an application for a temporary injunction.

Kirschbaum claims the land cannot be conveyed to the Dodgers because there was a deed restriction on it when it was acquired from the City Housing Authority. The restriction provided that the land be used only for public purposes.

City Atty. Roger Arnebaugh was asked to comment on the gravity of the situation.

"It is our considered judgment," he said, "that the contract is legal in all its aspects. But these lawsuits may well cause some delay in the ultimate completion of the projeet.

"The contract (with the Dodgers) says that in the event we are unable to get the restriction removed or modified the contract will be of no further force or effect. We recognized that the deed restriction would have to be modified. Steps will now be taken to get it modified. It's a matter of working it out with the Housing Authority. They have already indicated they are sympathetic to the proposal that the Dodgers play there, in that it is a quasipublic purpose in itself—for the benefit of all the public."

Circleville Driver Reins 2 Winners

LEBANON (AP) — Jimmy Liso of Circleville had a big night as a driver in the 22nd trot session at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night. He handled two high-paying winners — one representing the first leg of the season's record daily double.

Liso piloted Worthy Venture to victory over the mile course in 2:11.2 in the first. The roan gelding paid her backers $53.80, $15.40 and $9.00. To those who favored Jerry Lambert in the second race, it was worth $11.80, $7.80 and $4.60. Worthy Venture and Jerry Lambert together paid $300.40, against a previous daily double high of $292.

Liso also won the eighth race, a 28 pace, behind Diploma, in 2:09, to pay backers $39.40, $11.80 and $6.20.

Dolph Regelsky, University of North Dakota freshman baseball coach, played in the infield for the Nashville team of the Double-A Southern Assn.

Tribe Ends Losing String; Bosox Bow

BOSTON (AP)—The famine is over and maybe a feast will start.

Anyway that's what the Cleveland Indians hoped today as they met the Boston Red Sox in the finale of a three-game set. The Tribe ended its four-game losing streak with a four-run burst in the 10th inning Wednesday, providing a 7-5 triumph.

Billy Harrell, who hit a two-run homer in the 10th, and Hoyt Wilhelm, the knuckleball relief artist, were the heroes for Cleveland.

Wilhelm, who came into the game in the sixth inning, pitched hitless ball until Ted Williams beat out an infield single in the 10th. Dick Hernert then smashed a home run above the left field wall, cutting Cleveland's apparently safe 7-3 margin by two runs.

Trailing 3-0 after five innings and headed for a fifth straight loss, the Indians nicked Boston's Frank Sullivan for a single run in the sixth frame.

Back-to-back doubles by Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon scored one more in the seventh. When Rocky Colavito ripped a single to center, Vernon crossed to make the score 3-3.

The Red Sox had roughed up starter Ray Narleski, scoring three runs in four innings. A walk to Jimmy Piersall with the bases loaded brought in the first tally in the second. Frank Malzone's singles and Jackie Jensen's 10th homer added two more in the fourth inning.

The Indians launched their four-run spree in the 10th when Wilhelm, usually a weak hitter, singled to right field. After Chico Carrasquel popped out, shortstop Harrell belted his homer, his fifth of the season.

Dick Brown, Bobby Avila and Roger Maris followed with singles —all off loser Dick Sisler. Brown scored on Maris' single and Avila raced home when catcher Berberet muffed a throw.

Sarazen Says Youth To Win U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Ageless Gene Sarazen likes a three-way youth parlay in the National Open Golf Tournament next week — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi and Billy Casper.

"I'd have to pick them 1-2-3 and let you choose the order," the 56-year-old golfing squire said today, taking a brief respite from his upstate cattle farm. "If I had to choose a fourth man it would be Jimmy Demaret.

"But I can't see it as a year for the Old Guard—Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or Demaret. They're nearing 50 and that means their knees are beginning to buckle."

Senior Golfers Aim at Dawson

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—A second group close to 200 NL ski veterans open a 36-hole attack at the Apawamis Club today in an effort to keep Johnny Dawson of Palm Desert, Calif., from winning the U. S. Seniors' golf championship on his initial try.

The long-time amateur star, who only recently turned 55 and became eligible for the championship, finished his 36-hole competition with a one-under par 70-73—143.

In the 54-year history of the tournament this score has been bettered only twice.

Blood for Out-of-County Use Helps Pickaway Meet Quota

"Donations are accepted to be used as replacements in out of county hospitals" says Montford Kirkwood, Pickaway County Bloodmobile chairman. "Persons for whom the blood is to be given should be designated at the time of registration.

"Our county receives credit if the donors give the replacement blood at the time of the visit and designate it as a replacement for some individual in a hospital outside Pickaway County."

Kirkwood stated that several persons from the county have been making donations for re-replacement blood outside the county. "These individuals are in a position to help Pickaway County top its quota and can save themselves much time and inconveniece."

Kirkwood also announced a new acceptance schedule for donors following inoculations: for cholera, diphtheria, influenza, polio, tetanus, typhoid fever, typhus and Rocky Mt. Spotted fever, donors will be accepted 24 hours after the last injection.

For smallpox— two weeks after either immune reaction or the scab comes off; for poison ivy, tuberculosis or yellow fever, two weeks after the last injection.

The Columbus Blood Center has been operating on an emergency basis during most of the past month, due to increased need for blood and the inability of many counties to meet their quota. Because of this, it has been necessary, in some cases to call in special donors for some patients. Pickaway County residents use more blood each year than they give.

The Bloodmobile will visit Pickaway County Monday from noon to 6 p. m. at the Methodist Church in Circleville, corner of Main and Pickaway Sts.

County Gets 2 New Bridges

Groveport Pike To Be Improved

Among highway improvement contracts to be sold June 10 by the Ohio Department of Highways are two projects calling for new bridges on the Circleville - Groveport Road in Pickaway County, it was announced today.

The first, about one mile north of old Route 23, will replace the narrow structure now spanning Griffy Run. At the same time, a nearby curve in the road will be eased.

The second bridge to be replaced crosses Walnut Creek about two miles south of the Franklin County line. On both projects, traffic will be detoured during part of the construction period, department officials stated.

Combined cost of the two jobs is estimated at $184,000 to be financed by federal and county funds. Scheduled completion dates for the projects are December 1958 and July 1959 respectively.

Walnut FFA Members Get Chapter Award

Four Walnut High School students have been selected as winners of FFA Chapter Foundation Awards.

Members of the Walnut Chapter of Future Farmers of America and the awards they received are:

"Star Chapter Farmer", Roger Schneider, son of Mrs. Mary Schneider, Route 3, Circleville.

"Farm Mechanics" and memorized "Public Speaking", John Noecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright Noecker, Route 1, Ashville.

Extemperaneous "Public Speaking", Ted Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Route 1, Stoutsville.

"Dairy Farming", Marcus Dresbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dresbach, Route 1, Ashville.

* * *

THESE AWARDS are made each year to the outstanding members of each FFA Chapter in the nation by the FFA Foundation. This foundation was established in 1944 to provide an opportunity for business and industry to cooperate in promoting the Future Farmer of America organization.

At the present time 300 firms throughout the nation donate to this foundation. These donations are used in part to finance awards to outstanding FFA members.

Anne Adkins Named Peabody Scholar

Miss Anne Adkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adkins, Jr., 315 Northridge Road, has been named a Helen Peabody Scholar at Western College for Women, Oxford. The Peabody Scholars, announced at Commencement each year, are selected from each class on the basis of scholastic achievement and leadership. Miss Peabody was the first president of the college. Tactical Use Of Big Thor Is Displayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force has shown that its Thor intermediate range ballistic missile program is well on the way toward meeting its operational objective.

The huge IRBM took another big step Wednesday when it was fired from a tactical launching pad for the first time. The test appeared successful.

The pad, a simply constructed steel platform, was a prototype of the one to be used when the missile is deployed with troops later this year.

Thor squadrons are earmarked for assignment with the Royal Air Force in England by December. Air Force crews are undergoing training now.

Another operational vehicle, the transporter-erector, was used to implace the Thor for firing. A conventional 90-foot service tower housed the missle, however, prior to launching.

The Air Force says that when the Thor is operational it will be fired in 15 minutes.

The missile was designed for a range of 1,500 miles but it reportedly has gone 2,600 miles.

Wheelersburg Bingo Operator Is Aquitted

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — William Potee, 61, charged in connection with his operation of a bingo game near Wheelersburg, was acquitted in Portsmouth Municipal Court Wednesday.

The prosecution failed to prove the game was operated for his personal profit. State law provides bingo is illegal only if conducted for the operator's profit.

Pickaway Grange Report

WASHINGTON

Members of the Washington Grange met Tuesday evening in the Washington Twp. School.

F. R. Lands, master, presided during the business session. There were 22 members and juveniles present.

The group voted to donate to the cancer society. Five applications for membership were presented.

Mrs. Arthur Leist was in charge of the program for the evening. She used a Memorial Day theme. The program opened with the group singing "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

The 23rd Psalm was read by the chaplain. It was followed by the Lord's Prayer said in unison. Mrs. Ralph DeLong gave a reading, "Love Triumphant." "Memorial" was presented by the master.

Roll of the deceased members of the past year was given. Delvin Smith gave a reading "Crossing the Bar." Closing song was "Father Will Rest in Thy Love."

* * *

BENEDICTION was given by the chaplain. Flowers were placed on the altar for all deceased members.

The next meeting will be held June 10 at the school. Gary Dean will present a program of magic.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by Miss Miriam Weaver and her committee.

Pat Brown Is Hustling Hard To Be California's Governor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—If you didn't know him, you might think twice before picking out Edmund G. (Pat) Brown as anyone likely to become governor of California.

In politics and in personality, the cheery, round-faced attorney general is the complete opposite of his Republican opponent, Sen. William F. Knowland.

But Republicans don't underrate the 53-year-old Democrat. He's a hustler and a vote-getter. For eight years he has been the only Democrat holding statewide office. Tuesday's primary results confirmed his two-party popularity.

Brown, a self-styled moderate, has an average-man look. He's plain and informal, with an air of sincerity. Once a Republican, he has helped unify his present party after years of disputes.

Brown both worked and joshed his way through an intensive pre-primary campaign.

"I have a hard name to remember but I hope you'll try," the plumpish candidate told one audience.

He combined personal campaigning with sharply worded attacks against Knowland and Knowland's injection of the so-called right-to-work issue.

Brown said he was all for cleaning up any labor union corruption. But as for right-to-work laws favored by Knowland, "I am against them, period."

The San Francisco-born attorney, of Irish-German descent, switched his registration to Democratic in 1934 after running unsuccessfully for the State Assembly.

He and Mrs. Brown have five children, including a 19-year-old son who is studying for the Catholic priesthood.

If he's elected, Brown will be California's first Democratic governor since 1938, its second in this century.

State of Ohio, Supt. of Insurance, Certificate of Compliance—The undersigned, Supt. of Ins. of the State of Ohio, hereby certifies that SPRINGFIELD FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY, whose principal office is located at Springfield, State of Massachusetts, has complied with the laws of this State applicable to it and is authorized during the current year to transact in this State its appropriate business of insurance. Its financial condition is shown by its annual statement to have been as follows on December 31, 1956: Aggregate amount of available assets, $111,080,687.95; Aggregate amount of liabilities (except capital), including reinsurance reserve, $56,950,490.19; Net assets, $54,115,197.76; Amount of actual paid-up capital, $7,000,000.00; Surplus, $47,115,197.76; Income for the year, $48,197,620.97; Expenditures for the year, $50,043,660.33.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused my seal to be affixed at Columbus, Ohio, this day and date, July 1, 1957. Arthur I. Vorys, Supt. of Ins. of Ohio. (Seal) 381

Blood for Out-of-County Use Helps Pickaway Meet Quota

"Donations are accepted to be used as replacements in out of county hospitals" says Montford Kirkwood, Pickaway County Bloodmobile chairman. "Persons for whom the blood is to be given should be designated at the time of registration.

"Our county receives credit if the donors give the replacement blood at the time of the visit and designate it as a replacement for some individual in a hospital outside Pickaway County."

Kirkwood stated that several persons from the county have been making donations for re-replacement blood outside the county. "These individuals are in a position to help Pickaway County top its quota and can save themselves much time and inconveniece."

Kirkwood also announced a new acceptance schedule for donors following inoculations: for cholera, diphtheria, influenza, polio, tetanus, typhoid fever, typhus and Rocky Mt. Spotted fever, donors will be accepted 24 hours after the last injection.

For smallpox— two weeks after either immune reaction or the scab comes off; for poison ivy, tuberculosis or yellow fever, two weeks after the last injection.

The Columbus Blood Center has been operating on an emergency basis during most of the past month, due to increased need for blood and the inability of many counties to meet their quota. Because of this, it has been necessary, in some cases to call in special donors for some patients. Pickaway County residents use more blood each year than they give.

The Bloodmobile will visit Pickaway County Monday from noon to 6 p. m. at the Methodist Church in Circleville, corner of Main and Pickaway Sts.

Groveport Pike To Be Improved

Among highway improvement contracts to be sold June 10 by the Ohio Department of Highways are two projects calling for new bridges on the Circleville - Groveport Road in Pickaway County, it was announced today.

The first, about one mile north of old Route 23, will replace the narrow structure now spanning Griffy Run. At the same time, a nearby curve in the road will be eased.

The second bridge to be replaced crosses Walnut Creek about two miles south of the Franklin County line. On both projects, traffic will be detoured during part of the construction period, department officials stated.

Combined cost of the two jobs is estimated at $184,000 to be financed by federal and county funds. Scheduled completion dates for the projects are December 1958 and July 1959 respectively.

Walnut FFA Members Get Chapter Award

Four Walnut High School students have been selected as winners of FFA Chapter Foundation Awards.

Members of the Walnut Chapter of Future Farmers of America and the awards they received are:

"Star Chapter Farmer", Roger Schneider, son of Mrs. Mary Schneider, Route 3, Circleville.

"Farm Mechanics" and memorized "Public Speaking", John Noecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright Noecker, Route 1, Ashville.

"Dairy Farming", Marcus Dresbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dresbach, Route 1, Ashville.

* * *

THESE AWARDS are made each year to the outstanding members of each FFA Chapter in the nation by the FFA Foundation. This foundation was established in 1944 to provide an opportunity for business and industry to cooperate in promoting the Future Farmer of America organization.

At the present time 300 firms throughout the nation donate to this foundation. These donations are used in part to finance awards to outstanding FFA members.
